Adair, I. T.; Carrie, wife of Andrew Hayhurst, of Carroll County; Martha Delaney, wife of William Vowel; Cordelia; Mac Noah, of Indian Territory; Ida, and Hattie. Since a boy our subject has made his home on Long Creek, near Shaver Postoffice, where he has one of the best farms to be found. He has 390 acres, the old farm owned by his father, and has always followed farming and stockraising, being one of the best known men in this part of the county. In the month of July, 1862, he enlisted in Company K, First Arkansas Cavalry, Federal Army, at Springfield, Mo., and operated in Missouri and Arkansas. He was captured in Carroll County in the fall of 1862, but was released after about one month, and was mustered out at Fayetteville, Ark., in February, 1864. After the war he resumed farming and has followed it ever since. He and wife have been members of the Christian Church for many years, and he has been a Republican since he first commenced voting.

ROBERT W. HARRISON, JR. This gentleman comes of a good Southern family, and in Maury County, Tenn., his father, Robert W. Harrison, first saw the light in 1818. He was the only child of his parents, ——— and Elizabeth (Roberts) Harrison, and is a member of the same family as is ex-President Benjamin H. Harrison. He received fair educational advantages in his youth, and in 1841 came to Newton County, Ark., and settled on Little Buffalo Creek, one mile above Jasper, where he made his home for about one year. At the end of that time he moved to Boone County, Ark., but after a short time returned to his farm in this county, and after residing on the same for three years took up his residence in Jasper, where he made his home until his death in 1881. He was a successful law practitioner for some years, and in 1859-60 he was elected to represent the county in the State Legislature, and for a period of about ten years served in the responsible capacity of county judge, becoming one of the most prominent men of his section. He was for a long time connected with the Republican party, but for some years before his death supported the measures of Democracy. He was married on Dick River in Maury County, Tenn., and removed to Arkansas by wagon at a time when the country was so wild that they had to cut a road through the cane brake and brush at many different places. They made a settlement on a very large tract of land about one mile west of Jasper, but three years later settled in the town, of which they were among the very first settlers. He and his wife, who was born in Maury County, Tenn., were worthy members of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was a member of the A. F. & A. M., and as an attorney he was considered, and justly so, one of the best in the State. His widow, whose maiden name was Clarissa Austin, is now residing in Harrison, Ark., with her daughter, Mrs. David ———, who is one of the ten children she bore her husband, as follows: Sarah, widow of Riley Cissel, is the mother of W. H. Cissel, of Harrison; Caroline is the wife of Frank Davis, of Harrison; Mary is the wife of F. S. Baker, of Harrison; George, a scout in the Confederate Army, was killed in Carroll County, Ark., during the war; Austin died when six or seven years old; John S. lives on a farm near Jasper; Thomas F. is a merchant of Jasper; Robert W. is also a merchant of that place; Wesley is farming in western Texas; and William F., who resides in Jasper and farms in the vicinity of the place. Robert W. Harrison, the immediate subject of this sketch, was born in the town of Jasper, Ark., May 14, 1853, in the public schools, of which place he acquired a good practical education. He started out for himself at the early age of seventeen, and for some six years thereafter followed the life of a cow boy in the Lone Star State, during which time he became a thorough plainsman. He was a participant in several fights with the Indians who would stampede the stock, and on one occasion found it necessary to kill one Indian. He returned to Newton County, Ark., in 1874, and for some five years thereafter was engaged in tilling the soil two and one-half miles south of Jasper. At the end of that time he located in the town and opened a dry goods establishment, which he gradually merged into the grocery and finally into the drug business, his partner in the latter enterprise being Dr. Montgomery, but in 1881 this partnership was dissolved, and he once more started in business alone, and has continued on his own responsibility ever since, conducting a well-appointed general mercantile establishment, and doing an annual business of about $30,000, the largest of the kind done in the county. He is a man of excellent business qualifications, is far-seeing and prudent in all his transactions, honorable and upright in every particular, and is in every way worthy the liberal patronage he receives. Politically he has always been a Republican and socially is a member of the A. F. & A. M. In 1876 he united his fortunes with those of Miss Anna Henderson, who was born in this county in 1859, and to their union four children were born: Hattie, wife of W. L. Curtis, of Jasper; Mattie M.; Hugh D. and Ollie. The mother of these children died in 1891, and Mr. Harrison took for his second wife Miss Sarah Hudson, daughter of Henry Hudson, of this county. She was born here in 1874. In May, 1893, while Mr. Harrison was taking a trip through Polk County, Ark., he was taken for a United States marshal by a party of moonshiners, was led into an ambush and was shot four times with a 44-caliber Winchester rifle. One shot took effect in his body, one in his right arm, carrying away two inches of the bone, and two shots in the face, one lodging in the back part of the head and neck, and one passing through the tongue, tearing out the roof of the mouth. Two of the men are now paying the penalty of their misdeeds in the penitentiary, but it was fully eight weeks before Mr. Harrison was able to be out of bed, during which time he came very near death's door, only a hardy constitution and excellent nursing carrying him through.

CHARLES B. GRIGSBY. One of the old and prominent citizens of Stone County, Ark., is Charles B. Grigsby, who has labored for the good of this section for many years, although a native of Monroe County, East Tenn.; he was born in 1828, to James and Margaret (Houston) Grigsby, who were born in the Old Dominion. They were married in Blount County, Tenn., and made their home there and in Loudon Counties until 1850, when they came to Arkansas, locating in Independence County, eight miles above Batesville and two miles from the White River. While residing in Tennessee, the father held the office of constable for twenty-four years, and he also became one of the substantial citizens of Independence County, Ark. He was a Whig in politics and at the time of his death was about sixty-one years of age, while his wife attained the age of eighty-five years. Her grandfather reared Gen. Sam Houston, who afterward became so well known in the history of Tennessee and Texas. To the marrage of Mr. and Mrs. Grigsby eight children were born, of whom the subject of this sketch was the fifth. He attended school in Monroe County, Tenn., and there made his home until 1848, when he came to Arkansas and located in Independence County, in the Barrens, nine miles west of Batesville, where he rented land for a time, then entered a forty-acre tract five miles west of where he then lived. After residing there a few years he bought land in the southern part of the county, and fifty acres in the bottom, on which he erected a cotton gin which was later destroyed by fire, with seventy-five bales of cotton. This fire left him $4,800 in debt, but he kept his land there for ten or twelve years longer. The farm on which he now resides consists of 160 acres of land, forty acres of which are in the Coon Creek bottom. He has devoted the most of his attention to farming and stockraising since coming to Arkansas, and for some time while residing in Pioneer Hist. of Mo.

Independence County he served in the capacity of deputy sheriff under Robert R. Case. In September, 1862, he joined Rutherford's Battalion, and was afterward with Anderson's cavalry until the war closed. He for some time served in the capacity of assistant quartermaster, and during this time had many queer experiences. He was in the Trans-Mississippi Department, and was on the Missouri raid, participating in all the battles of that famous campaign. In 1855 he was married to Martha Warren, who was born in Dyer County, Tenn., and to them seven children have been given, three sons and four daughters, the former of whom are at home and also one of the daughters. Their mother is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and socially Mr. Grigsby is a Mason and a member of the I. O. O. F. He is a Democrat politically. Mr. Grigsby has seen many ups and downs in his life, for when he came to Arkansas he had $1 in money and was in debt $55. He was very successful, however, and when the war broke out he was in good circumstances financially, but at the close of the war had to again commence anew. He is now well off and thoroughly enjoys the fruits of his early industry and self-denial.

JAMES M. BREWER. He whose name heads this sketch has been a resident of Searcy County, Ark., since 1871, and during that time he has made a comfortable income for himself and family, has shown that he is a man of public spirit, liberal, generous and highminded, and has made numerous warm friends. His birth occurred in Franklin County, Tenn., September 21, 1833, a son of Zadock and Mary (Brumley) Brewer, who were also born on Tennessee soil, and with them he moved to Arkansas in his boyhood and settled on a farm in Polk County. Later the family moved to Conway County and there the father was called from this life in 1865, his widow surviving him but one year. Of a family of ten children born to them but five are living at the present time: William C., Minerva, wife of John Sowers; Sally (Counts), Sarah (Casper), and James M. Those deceased were: Joseph D., John E., Zadock, Henry C. and Jacob. James M. Brewer resided for a long term of years in Johnson County, Ark., and was married there to Emeline Weeks, daughter of J. M. Weeks. She was born in Tennessee and has borne her husband the following children: James M.; Lou, wife of Henry Prechet; Margaret E., Bell, wife of William Bradley; John H., Callie, Ida, William, Lillie and Victoria. Through the exercise of brain and brawn and much good judgment Mr. Brewer has become the owner of a good property and is justly considered one of the well-to-do men of the county. He has resided on his present farm ever since coming to the county and his estate, which comprises 300 acres, is admirably tilled, no one portion being cultivated and another neglected. The soil is fertile, repays the toil and attention bestowed upon it by the owner and yields abundant harvests. Mr. Brewer is a Republican in politics, has always been prominent in the public affairs of his section and socially affiliates with Snow Ball Lodge of the A. F. & A. M. His home is located about nine miles from Marshall and is one of the very best of Bear Creek.

JAMES P. BRADY. Agricultural pursuits have formed the chief occupation of this gentleman, and the wide-awake manner in which he has taken advantage of every method and idea tending to the enhanced value of his property has had considerable to do with his success in life. He was born in Georgia February 9, 1847, a son of Hiram J. and Charity (Cook) Brady, of that State and grandson of Enoch Brady, who was a son of Irish parents and a participant in some of the early wars of the United States. Hiram J. Brady was born in Georgia, emigrated to Arkansas in 1871, coming thither by rail and wagon, purchased land and made a location on Sugar Orchard Creek, where they lived until their deaths in 1885 and 1883, father and mother, respectively. The father was a lifelong farmer, but at one time also followed merchandising in Georgia, and acquired a goodly property. He was a Democrat politically, held the office of county judge of Fannin County, Ga., and was a leading politician of that section. He and his wife were members of the Primitive Baptist Church and the father was a deacon of that church in Georgia for many years. Their children were as follows: Eloch was a man of family and died while serving in the Second Georgia Infantry during the war; Thomas was a man of family and died in Georgia before the war; Mary A. is the widow of Thomas Smith and is living three miles from Powell; John W. is living about a mile and a half from Powell and is a man of family; James P.; Amanda E. is the widow of Thomas Cotton and resides in this county; Nancy J. is the wife of D. M. Cochran and lives three miles north of Powell. James P. Brady's early life was spent in Georgia on a farm and there he obtained a fair education in the common schools. When sixteen years of age, in 1863, he entered the Confederate service, Second Georgia Infantry, served until the war closed and was in all the prominent battles from Tennessee eastward: Wilderness, Spottsylvania, Cold Harbor, Petersburg, and the siege of that place, and was not wounded or captured during his service. He engaged in farming after the war, and in 1868 was married to Harriet, the daughter of William and Sally Godfrey, the former of whom died many years ago in Georgia, and the latter now residing in the vicinity of Powell, Ark. In 1872 Mr. Brady came to Marion County, Ark., and settled on a farm one-half mile west of Powell, but in 1890 came to his present location at Powell. He has a good and well-improved farm of 160 acres and also has considerable valuable mining property, and was at one time the owner of the Gov. Eagel Mine and the Parkhill Mine. He is at the present time developing what promises to be a valuable mine, but at the same time carries on farming and stock raising successfully. He is a stanch Democrat, is active in politics and has held the office of justice of the peace. He and his worthy wife are the parents of seven children: William, Allie (wife of James Casey, of Powell), Charity, Sally, Gordon, Violet and Russell.

WILLIAM H. CECIL. The calling of the merchant is one of the most honorable lines of industry, and one of its most worthy exponents at Harrison is William H. Cecil, who is a native of Jasper, Newton County, Ark., where he first saw the light of day July 9, 1854. His parents, Riley and Sarah (Harrison) Cecil, were born in Tennessee, and the former was a son of William Cecil, who became a resident of Newton County, Ark., during the early history of the county and settled on what is called the Cecil Fork of the Buffalo River. There the grandfather died at an early day, and his widow in 1857 started on the overland journey to California, and was in the wagon train that was massacred in Utah by the Mormons and Indians, known in history as the Mountain Meadow Massacre, but fortunately two days before that event she and her sons had left the train and taken another trail and thus escaped a horrible death. She was the mother of six sons and several daughters, of whom Riley was but a lad when his parents came to Arkansas. He was married in Newton County, and for some time thereafter lived on Big Buffalo River, the father dying there in 1856. He was a successful tiller of the soil, and to himself and wife two children were born: William H. and Mary J., wife of John Hammock, of Harrison. The mother is still living and resides with the subject of this sketch. Her parents were Robert and Clarinda (Austin) Harrison, who were early settlers of the county of Newton, where the grandfather died. The grandmother Harrison is still living and makes her home in Harrison with her daughter, Mrs. Davis. William H. Cecil attained manhood in Newton County, and after the death of his father he and his widowed mother went to live with Many Grigsby has asked if I could find Wilkerson Grigsby that came to Oregon - He couldn't be found in Census records & that this Man could be John Wilkerson G. but he had passed on by time my letter got back to her.

William B. Travis

John Travis or Travers (name spelled both ways in the records) may be a son of Giles Travers who probably married a granddaughter of Alexander Doniphan. Alexander Doniphan, sometime Justice of the County Court and Sheriff of Richmond County, made his will in Richmond, September 29, 1716, and twice mentions his "grandson" Giles Travers to whom he gave legacies (W. B. 1709-17, p. 297). Hayden in his "Virginia Genealogical" has erroneously interpreted this as "godson". (p. 300).

John Travers' grandson, Barrick Travis of Edgefield County, S. C. ("Berwick Traverse" according to his land grant) named one of his children "Alexander Doniphan". The name came into the Perryman family. Mumford Perryman who married Elizabeth Travis, daughter of Barrick, named one of his children "Alexander Doniphan Perryman".

The first record of John Travis was his marriage to Mrs. Margaret Heabard, June 22, 1722. (St. Paul's Reg. p. 19). John, the first of that given name in the Travers family was probably named for John Gowry (see later).

Margaret Heabard was the widow of William Heabard who died about 1720 in Stafford (Bk. K. 1721-30, missing, p. 61. See index). Their only child was Priscilla Heabard who married Bayne Smallwood of Charles County, Md. Priscilla was the mother of William Smallwood, General of the Revolution and Governor of Maryland. (See Stone, Smallwood, Smith Family.)

Margaret Heabard became involved in a law suit with Robert Beverley, an influential member of the Virginia Council, previous to her marriage with John Travis. The following record from Essex County Land Trials, 1711-1716, (p. 37) gives an account of the suit. "At Court Feb. 21, 1720, now at this day comes Margaret Heabard, mother and next friend of Priscilla Heabard, appeared and entered herself defendant for 365 acres of land and pleads not guilty." On July 18, 1721, the case was tried by a jury who having received all the evidence, to wit, a patent granted to the said Robert Beverley for 4000 acres of land dated Oct. 9, 1719, found for the defendant Priscilla Heabard.

On October 6, 1721, Henry Hewett deeded 50 acres in King George to Margaret Heabard, widow, both of Stafford, for 500 lbs. tbco. The witnesses were David and Garrard Waugh (K.G. D.B. 1721-29, part 1, pg. 20). This property was sold "by John Travis of Overwharton Parish and Margaret, his wife, late Margaret Heabard, to Catesby Cocke" for 3000 lbs. tbco. on August 21, 1729. (K.G. Bk. "1A" 1729-34, p. 9).

Another transaction with Henry Hewett was shown by their deed of April 16, 1629, for 150 acres to Joseph Crouch which recites that same was "part of a dividend of 1600 acres brought of Captain William Heabard (uncle of Margaret's first husband patented 1633) by Francis Hooe, then by divers others sold to Stephen Hewett, decd. Henry Hewett, son of Stephen, sold to Margaret Heabard and now the said John Travers is married to the said Margaret Heabard," (K.G. D.B. 1, part 2, 1721-29, p. 639).

John Travis of Stafford lived ten miles from the King George court house, for on Feb. 10, 1729 the King George Court entered the following order: "John Travis of Stafford County being summoned as evidence by Thomas Monteith against Jeremiah Bronough and Rose, his wife, admrs. with the will annexed for John Dinwiddie decd., making oath that he had come six times and attended eight days on the suit and it appearing that he lived ten miles from the Court, it is ordered that the said Monteith pay the said Travis for attending same."(K.G. "OB" 1721-34, p. 484).

John Dinwiddie, brother of Governor Dinwiddie, had married Rose, daughter of Col. George Mason (D. 1716). John died in King George in 1726. His inventory was filed in that year but the record of his will has been lost. His widow, Rose, evidently married Colonel Jeremiah Bronaugh.

In 1722 in King George, Robert Doniphan deeded to John Dinwiddie part of a tract of land from 15650 acres of land granted to John and George Mott, 17 Oct. 1672. This deed was witnessed by John Travis who later testified in the law suit concerning same.

Margaret Heabard, widow, was the daughter of Mary Newton-Meese, widow of Benjamin Newton (1669-1710) of Stafford and also of John Meese who died in Stafford 1733. Inasmuch as Margaret was a widow by 1720, she was born before 1710 and must have been the daughter of Mary's first husband Benjamin Newton.

Mary Newton-Meese, her mother, was the daughter of John Grigsby of Stafford whose will was dated Mar. 17, 1728-29 and probated, Nov. 11, 1730. (See Grigsby). He gave his daughter "Mary Amees" (as spelled in the will) four negroes, Jemmy, Will, Tony and Bess. In her will she gave "Jemmy" to grandson William Travis; "Will" to grandson William Rogers and "Bess" to grandson Grigsby Rogers (W.B. "M" p. 313).

Mrs. Mary "Amees" was given a legacy in the will of Nathaniel Bryant proven in Stafford Mar. 23, 1732-3 as follows: "This day came Lew Cresey, John Grafford and William Grafford and made oaths that Nathaniel Bryant on his death bed the 21st day of their instant March gave unto Mary Amees all his whole estate to bury him excepting his horse, bridle and saddle which he gave to his godson, Nathaniel Jeffries 'Sworn before me, Thomas Grigsby, Justice'". (W.B. 1729-48, p. 100).

As shown later the names of John and William Grafford are spelled both "Grafford" and "Crafford", also "Craford and Graforth". Mrs. Meese's name varies also from "Ameese" to "Meese". The court clerks spelled by sound in those days.

The above John Crafford made his will in the April 13, 1733, and gave to his grandmother Mary "Meese" all my part of my grandfather's estate to her and the heirs of her body. He appoints "My grandmother Mary 'Amees' "my whole and sole executor." (W.B. "M" p. 184).

Mrs. Mary Newton's second husband was John Meese who may have been a son of Col. Henry Meese, Burgess, 166 and Member of Council, 1677-78. (Tyler Va. Biog: I p. 136) John Meese's estate was appraised by Charles Fowke, Mott Doniphan and John Puddyvat on July 12, 1733, who met at the home of Mary Meese the widow. (Do. p. 121)

That the first husband of Mrs. Mary Meese was Benjamin Newton, I, is evidently proven in the following way: On April 26, 1714, Phillip Crafford, or Grafford, mariner of St. Paul's Parish, Stafford, and LETITIA his wife sold land in Essex County which had been given to Letitia by HER FATHER BENJAMIN NEWTON in his WILL dated Jan. 3, 1709-10. (33 V.-393; 37 V. 180). (See Newton).

The above Letitia, wife of Phillip Crafford died June 18, 1725 (S.P.R.) and her husband Phillip married again Dec. 31, 1730, Mary Simmons (S.P.R.).

In 1732 Phillip Crafford was executor of the estate of Benjamin Newton, Jr., for 12 years. (37 V.-180).

Also in 1732 Phillip Crafford made a deed to John Travis (D.B. 1731-39, index only - book lost). This may have been a deed to John Travis because his wife was an heir of Benj. Newton. (Will lost).

John Crafford was evidently a son of Phillip by his first wife Letitia Newton. At the time John made his will in 1733 his father had remarried, so his father was passed by for his (John's) grandmother, Mary Newton-Meese. He was giving her husband's property back to her and her heirs.

Phillip Crafford had a daughter, Letitia, born May 4, 1718. She married Joseph Bowling, July 15, 1738. (S.P.R.).

Margaret (Newton) Heabard-Travis, wife of John Travis also had a daughter named "Letitia". Letitia Travis married James Grigsby, a cousin, Jan. 18, 1753. (S.P.R.).

That Benjamin Newton's wife was named "Mary" is proven by a deed that "Benj. Newton and wife Mary" made to William King, Oct. 29, 1699, for "150 acres in Stafford part of 400 acres given me by my father (John Newton) in Stafford in 1690". (Bk. Z, pp. 6-8). (37 V.-180)

Benjamin Newton, I, was assuredly deceased before April 26, 1714, as proven by the deed of his daughter Letitia and her husband Phillip Crafford on that date (ante). He was evidently dead by 1710 as Benjamin Newton, II (his son) and wife Elizabeth in that year deeded land in Richmond County to their son Benj. Newton, Jr. (III). (33 V.-393, 37 V.-180). Benjamin, II, married Elizabeth daughter of Thomas and Lucy Gregg (see Gregg). Benjamin, II, seems to have died in 1719 as his estate account was filed in Stafford in that year. (37 V.-180) (For authorities and full explanation, see Newton).

John Travis, on Nov. 9, 1724, was a witness to a deed from Howson Hooe, of St. Paul's Parish to Thomas Grigsby for 250 acres lying in countries of Stafford and King George. (D.B. 1722-26, p. 133). His lands and that of his wife appear to lay partly in both countries. He died before Sept. 9, 1735, for the inventory of his estate was recorded in Stafford, Sept. 9, 1735. Same was signed by Mott Doniphan and James and John Grigsby, his relatives. (W.B. "M", p. 184).

Mrs. Mary Meese's will was dated April 20, 1747, and probated June 9, 1747. (W.B. "M", p. 513). Her legatees were: "grandson, William Travis, one negro named James and one young bay mare; granddaughters Margaret and Letitia Travis, each an cow and calf-dishes and plates; grandson William Rogers one negro man named Will and cow and calf; Mary Rogers Coughclough the wife of William Cloughclough, personalty; grandson Grigsby Rogers, negro man named Andrew and negro wench named Bess, also all rest of my estate both real and personal to my grandson Grigsby Rogers, he to be executor". Witnesses, Ann Grigsby, Robert Sudduth, John Hobby.

An inventory of her estate, dated July 14, 1747, was filed by Grigsby Rogers. (W.B. "M", p. 518).

Her children were:

I. Margaret Newton, m. (1) William Heabard, and had Priscilla Heabard who married Bayne Smallwood of mother, Mary Newton-Meese. He was giving her husband's property back to her and her heirs.

Phillip Crafford had a daughter, Letitia, born May 4, 1718. She married Joseph Bowling, July 15, 1738. (S.P.R.).

Margaret (Newton) Heabard-Travis, wife of John Travis also had a daughter named "Letitia". Letitia Travis married James Grigsby, a cousin, Jan. 18, 1753. (S.P.R.).

That Benjamin Newton's wife was named "Mary" is proven by a deed that "Benj. Newton and wife Mary" made to William King, Oct. 29, 1699, for "150 acres in Stafford part of 400 acres given me by my father (John Newton) in Stafford in 1690". (Bk. Z, pp. 6-8). (37 V.-180)

Benjamin Newton, I, was assuredly deceased before April 26, 1714, as proven by the deed of his daughter Letitia and her husband Phillip Crafford on that date (ante). He was evidently dead by 1710 as Benjamin Newton, II (his son) and wife Elizabeth in that year deeded land in Richmond County to their son Benj. Newton, Jr. (III). (33 V.-393, 37 V.-180). Benjamin, II, married Elizabeth daughter of Thomas and Lucy Gregg (see Gregg). Benjamin, II, seems to have died in 1719 as his estate account was filed in Stafford in that year. (37 V.-180) (For authorities and full explanation, see Newton).

John Travis, on Nov. 9, 1724, was a witness to a deed from Howson Hooe, of St. Paul's Parish to Thomas Grigsby for 250 acres lying in countries of Stafford and King George. (D.B. 1622-28, p. 133). His lands and that of his wife appear to lay partly in both countries. He died before Sept. 9, 1735, for the inventory of his estate was recorded in Stafford, Sept. 9, 1735. Same was signed by Mott Doniphan and James and John Grigsby, his relatives. (W.B. "M", p. 184).

Mrs. Mary Meese's will was dated April 20, 1747, and probated June 9, 1747. (W.B. "M", p. 513). Took an hour, earlier, to do some housekeeping chores with my email. How the emails do stack up! Anyway, that put me into a neat freak mode and while tidying up this desk I ran across a note I'd put aside to discuss with you.
Most of our Grigsbys were in Muhlenberg Co., KY before moving to Gibson Co., IN.
Barbara Belcher found evidence that John and Samuel (brothers, and sons of Moses Grigsby and Mary Matheny) had left Virginia for South Carolina, then removed to KY sometime in the 1790's. Dempsey, son of John, was born in 1799 in KY so that gives us something. I have gotten the impression that Samuel was in Muhlenberg Co., KY by 1800. Having no census records is pretty tough. And having no wills makes placing the children with the right father even tougher.
John was in Muhlenberg Co. until he and Demps removed to Gibson Co., IN about 1815 or so. Samuel was in Muhlenberg Co. in 1810 too but was a more restless, wandering type. By 1820 he was in Garrard Co. with a new wife, Elizabeth Strange, whom he had married in 1818 in Lincoln Co., KY. And by 1830 they were in Edgar Co., IL. By 1840 he had moved to Gibson Co., IN. I think that was because of Toliver's death about 1838. That left Toliver's widow with a pretty big family of young children to rear.
I've tried to figure out which family Toliver belonged in but he's hard to put on the family tree. He lived and worked near John when they were in KY and they all moved at about the same time, Toliver settling in Knox Co., IN. When I think I have Toliver pretty solidly in John's family I run into the Court summons to Toliver's heirs, list which includes Samuel.
We've been digging out all the Muhlenberg Co. marriages of Grigsby kids (a lot of them married about 1806) without coming up with anything very helpful.
I did run into something that might be significant, though, in some of the marriage records.
5 May 1813 Polly Grigsby (daughter of James) married John Smith; Bondsman Aaron Grigsby
10 Dec 1813 Aaron Grigsby married Polly Strange
25 Mar 1818 Lincoln Co., KY Samuel Grigsby married Elizabeth Strange; Bondsman John Smith
How's that for a fine kettle of fish? At the LDS library I checked the IGI and found that James Grigsby and Charlotte Gollihue had a daughter Mary Polly born 1798 in Washington Co., KY Is this your line? I've never seen a James Grigsby among the Muhlenberg Co. records.
Any ideas?

Took an hour, yeah, I'm to do some housekeeping chores with my email. How the emails do stack up! Anyway, that put me into a neat track mode and while tidying up this desk I ran across a note I'd put aside to discuss with you.

Most of our Grigsbys were in Muhlenberg Co., KY before moving to Gibson Co., IN.

Barbara Belcher found evidence that John and Samuel (brothers, and sons of Moses Grigsby and Mary Metheny) had left Virginia for South Carolina, then removed to KY sometime in the 1790's. Dempsey, son of John, was born in 1799 in KY so that gives us something. I have gotten the impression that Samuel was in Muhlenberg Co., KY by 1800. Having no census records is pretty tough. Guess I'd better get busy at something.
I enjoyed hearing from you this a.m. You made my day!

Good morning! We thought winter was over here, but no such luck. It has been snowing the past two days, but it is warm and it isn't staying on. The ground is just barely covered. I guess there is more snow south of us. Dan retired from the police department after 27 1/2 years. He is now town manager for North Manchester, IN, which is about 40 miles west of us. He is enjoying the change. He and Jerry bought a 3 story old brick home and have completely restored it. That was a job and a half but they would like to sell it now and move into something smaller. Dan did apply for a teaching job at Taylor University here in Fort Wayne but there are drawbacks to it, so will probably not take it if offered to him. The college is losing money and they may close their doors here and move back to Upland, IN. Dan may decide to stay where he is until he retires, which isn't that far away. I finally made it to the library Sunday but wasn't successful in finding anything. One of my friends went with me and we worked on her families. I think I am to the point now where I need to visit courthouses to do research. Do you belong to Ancestry.com, Barbara? There have been many entries for the Grigsbys. I know there is a lot of misinformation in their collection, but sometimes you can pick up a clue here and there. Is the Grigsby Family Association still active? Duty calls - Love, Shirley

Have you felt my "vibes" lately? I've been gearing up to write you for some time now. Hope you're keeping well and getting along okay. We amaze ourselves that we do as well as we do despite our age. Davey keeps telling himself he's going to be 80 come December. I'm still only 76 so I have that year ahead of me a bit.

Lois Grigsby wrote me a while back and we've been having another go at trying to sort out her Samuel Grigsby line. She did find a record in Muhlenberg Co., KY that definitely proved Samuel was the father of Moses and that there was another child, Redmond, who was younger than Moses but there doesn't seem to be anything further back on Samuel.

Since I began working with Nina Bowen on our Grigsbys I've been convinced that John (father of my gg grfa Demps), Moses (who settled in Pittsylvania Co., VA and then moved to Gibson Co., IN in the 1830's) and Samuel were brothers and sons of Moses Grigsby, Jr. and his second wife Mary Matheny. Does that make sense to you?

A couple of years ago a gal named Kelly Gage Crosby had a website on the Internet with a lot of Grigsby data. She didn't have much on John and what she had on Samuel was all messed up but she descended from Moses and his wife Abigail Fritter so she had a lot of that. She had connections with the National Grigsby Family Society and quoted them at times. I printed out most of her website and it was a good thing I did because she withdrew it and suddenly it wasn't there anymore. I sent her an email or two, telling her that I had more information on John and Demps but other than a short note saying she was busy elsewhere and would get back to me later, I've never heard anything more. (If I sound somewhat distracted or disjointed, think nothing of it. We're having a discussion about what to have for lunch while I'm trying to write this.) I've seen her in other GenForum family forums but don't remember which families they were. She probably got sick and tired of Grigsby people telling her about mistakes she made and was more interested in pursuing other lines.

While Kelly Crosby was still working on Grigsbys a question arose about whether there were 2 or 3 Moses Grigsbys in a row. At first Moses II was said to have married (1) Katherine Branson and (2) Mary Matheny. Then Jo Ann Brown (NGFS Genealogist) found something somewhere to the effect that one Moses had died in 1780 but that there were 2 more of them still living about 1803. Then in 1804 there was only Moses, Jr. in Pittsylvania Co., VA still living. The records those early years in the 1700's were pretty confusing and often incomplete. I've been wondering what Jo Ann found in the 1803 record. I think it was probably a reference to the estate of the one Moses, probably deceased, rather than actually referring to two specific men. There were some questions put in the Grigsby Forum on GenForum.com and Kelly's answer, while rather confusing, seemed to go along with there being only 2, not 3. Have you ever heard anything about this?

Lois and I have been going through all of our Grigsby files and coming up with all sorts of interesting theories but so far no proof of Samuel's parentage.

So often in the early days parents were very good about recording the births of their children but as the parents got older and the families got bigger it sometimes was more of a chore than they could handle and they just didn't always bother. Also, I suppose when there was an illness or a death it was hard to remember all the little unimportant things that needed doing. I think Samuel was the youngest and, as such, might not have remembered the things the older children had been told by their parents as they were growing up.
We'd appreciate any input you may be able to come up with. Also, would love to hear about you and your kids and how you're all getting along.

(Excerpts from the remarks made by Charles V. Grigsby when introduced to the members at the March 17th dinner as the newly elected President of the Society.)

"Well, Cousins, with only 24 hours as your Society President, I am discovering how big a pair of shoes I will have to fill in following Gordon Grigsby Lill, who, as the first Society President has done so much, brought us so far, in so short a time. The theme of administration as Society President will be "Service To The Family." I am asking that each member donate 1 hour a week, 52 hours a year, to some effort on behalf of the NGFS. This can take form in so many ways, such as perfecting your own Grigsby family line with proper documentation; research of local, county and State records for general information on all Grigsby ancestors; recruiting a new member - an effective way to double our membership. There is so much to do - so much personal satisfaction to be gained from only one hour of your week!

Keeping Society members informed is high on my list of priorities. Through our two Memorabilias - the first in 1979 and now our latest, edited jointly by Beth Nicholson and Margaret Mottley - our quarterly Newsletter, copies of which are increasingly in demand by many Historical Societies, and the wide exchange of genealogical subject matter between members of the same family line, the Society is actively complying with the 5th Society Objective - 'Dissemination of information to members.'

The Chapter concept is a good one. The Southwest Chapter, organized last fall, will strengthen the Society with contributions from several projects now being planned. When J.T. Nichols found that he was unable to complete his term as Chapter President, the Chapter turned to Mrs. Christine K. Clark (OK) to complete Jim's term and continue his work in Chapter growth and Society involvement. Now, there is considerable discussion underway to begin work on organizing a West Coast Chapter. We expect to make this a reality in time for our next Society Reunion in 1987 at a west coast location.

If our plans seem ambitious, they are! The idea of a "National" Family Society was ambitious at the onset - and look how far we have come! Our Family heritage is a precious thing and its preservation is of the utmost importance - to all of us. All too soon this golden, glowing moment of reunion will be behind us, but we will carry the memory of meeting so many new cousins, seeing those we knew once again and miss, so very much, seeing those who had made plans to attend but, at the last moment were unable to do so. Thank you for your support of the Society and its officers in the months to come, for your attendance here tonight and for being a part of the 1984 reunion of the Grigsby Family."

THE 1984 SAN ANTONIO REUNION BANQUET - A NIGHT TO REMEMBER

March 17th - St. Patrick's Day - and Society members, friends and guests came wearing a bit of green to honor the 'O'Grigsby Clan' gathered at the Menger in reunion. 'Twas a night to remember! Beginning with a troop of Irish Dancers who gaily entertained during the social hour, the guests were next seated at Irish Green banquet tables where they witnessed the impressive presentation of colors by the Fort Sam Houston Color Guard. An invocation was given by Reverend Clyde Byrd of Alamo Heights Methodist Church. Reunion Chairman Gordon Grigsby Lill then made introductions of the newly elected Society Directors, Officers and guests of the Society.

1984 MEMBERS OF THE BOARD

John T. Grigsby (Va); Camellia T. Denys (Ut); Elizabeth R. Decker (Az); Orval R. Grigsby (Ca) - On Back Row. Seated are Margaret G. Mottley (Tx); Gordon G. Lill (Md); Charles V. Grigsby (La), President.

Not in picutre: Barbara F. Belcher (Mi); Christine K. Clark (Ok); Elizabeth M. Nicholson (Mass); Fay Baugh Reinking (Tx).

Among those recognized by Chairman Lill for their contributions - both to the Society and to the events so enjoyed during our reunion, were:

Beth Nicholson (MA) and Margaret Mottley (TX), co-editors of the new Memorabilia, II, for their work in producing such an outstanding volume of Grigsby Family history.

Sue T. Wilson of San Antonio, for her months of on-the-scene handling of the many necessary arrangements with the hotel and coordinating the reunion programs.

Olive G. Bush (CA) and Charles O. Grigsby (IL) for their contributions of California wines and Lorraine Cheese so enjoyed in the rooms of our London Cousin Harold Grigsby.

Camellia T. Denys (UT) for her continuing work in setting high standards for the research and genealogy efforts carried on by members of the Society.

Zeannete K. Roberts (VA) for serving as Chairman of the 1984 Nominating Committee.

The Contributors and R.E. Grigsby (DE) for their work on the Society Newsletter.

Warren Grigsby (TX) and William Margach (NY) for the impromptu arrangement to supply dozens of souvenir "T" shirts and for the film of 1979 Reunion highlights.

Dwight B. Grigsby (LA) for providing a copier for member use in the hospitality room.

Special recognition was paid by Chairman Lill to the retiring Officers and Directors who have served the society since its inception: Charles J. Grigsby(VA), Treasurer; Richard G. Zimermann (VA), Corporate Secretary; John W. Grigsby (TN), Director; Dr. H. Jackson Darst (VA), Director; R.E. Grigsby (DE), Director; Olive G. Bush (CA), Director.

When our English cousin, Harold W. Grigsby of London was introduced, Chairman Lill pointed out Harold's many contributions toward Society efforts to determine the early ancestory of the 1660 Colonial immigrant to Virginia, John Grigsby, and to the many letters exchanged in past years with his American Cousins. Sue Wilson was called upon to present Harold with a western cowboy hat and Chairman Lill presented to "Sir" Harold a scroll to honor his attending the reunion.

.....continued, REUNION BANQUET - A NIGHT TO REMEMBER!

Charles V. Grigsby (LA), our newly elected Society President, was introduced by Reunion Chairman Lill. Excerpts from "Chuck's" remarks are carried on page 41.

Before the introduction of the feature speaker of the evening, Mr. Henry Guerra of San Antonio, our retiring Society President, Gordon Grigsby Lill, was given a standing round of applause for his years of devoted and constructive leadership as our first President.

AVAILABLE - ON CASSETTE, REUNION HIGHLIGHTS, 1979.

Enjoyed by many attending in San Antonio, was the showing on TV of a VHS cassette of the 1979 reunion at Natural Bridge, VA. Made from a 200 foot 8mm color film presented to the Society by Susan G. Margach (NY), the cassette, suitable for viewing on a TV set to those with proper equipment, can be ordered from Warren H. Grigsby, 4034 McKinney St., Dallas TX 75204. Cost of the cassette, recording and shipping is $15.

THE SOUTH WEST CHAPTER REPORTS

Members of the Southwest Chapter met to consider the nomination and election of a successor to fill the remaining term of Jim T. Nichols who has had to resign following his election last fall as Chapter President. Chapter Director, Mrs. Christine Kay Clark (309 W. Keetooway, Tahlequah, OK 74464) has agreed to serve and will be assisted by Jean G. Sarton (LA) V. Pres; E. Jan Grigsby Benton, Secretary; Elaine G. Pesnell (LA) Treasurer and Directors listed on p. 34 of the Oct. '83 newsletter. Christine, whose Grigsby roots go back to the early Stafford County families, will announce a series of Chapter projects for 1984 in the weeks to come.

THE "IT'S A SMALL WORLD DEPARTMENT."

Everett M. Grigsby (OK) who attended the San Antonio Reunion told us about his wife, Dr. Doris Grigsby, who is on assignment to NASA Headquarter's Education Services in Washington, DC from Bacone College (NSDAR members take note) in Muskogee, OK. Doris is a principal investigator assigned to the Long Duration Exposure Facility for the SEEDS project launched from the Challenger sent up on the April, 1984 Space Shuttle. The NASA SEEDS Project involving more public school students than any previous launch, is co-sponosored by the Park Seed Company of Greenwood, SC. Shortly thereafter a letter came from Robert Brian Grigsby (FL) with sincere regrets for not being able to attend the San Antonio Reunion due to his new work assignment in Washington, DC where he is on assignment as a working member of the NASA Space Station Task Force which has been doing the preliminary planning for the permanently manned Space Station recently announced by President Reagan. Both the families of Everett M. Grigsby and Robert B. Grigsby are living in nearby Virginia within a few miles of one another. After learning of their mutual interests in NASA, they will probably get together....

....and follow up on the star named GRIGSBY (MAG 09.1 RA 07h 42m 20.299s) on the 25 of December, 1983 by Star Registration Systems, International. President Charles V. Grigsby was advised of this perpetual honor but would like to have further verification.

MEMORABILIA, II - NOW AVAILABLE IN A LIMITED EDITION. ORDER YOURS NOW.

The Grigsby Family Reunion Book - 1984, was enthusiastically received by those attending the San Antonio Reunion where it was first distributed. Edited by Elizabeth M. Nicholson and Margaret G. Mottley, the ALL-NEW edition contains some 500 pages and a much wider range of subject matter, even a reprint of the original 1878 W.H. Grigsby, "Genealogy of the Grigsby Family - In Part."

Memorabilia, II contains new profiles on family lines, history, photographs and articles on Grigsby's Coffee House (London), excerpts from the journals of Wallace Grigsby (Boer War), Robert F. Grigsby (travels), Melvin Grigsby (Civil War) and early records from the Falling Spring Presbyterian Church (Virginia). Feature articles account for a number of Grigsbys with a background of Texas history.

As a worthy companion to Memorabilia, I, published 1979, the two volumes CONTAIN MUCH OF WHAT IS KNOWN ABOUT THE HERITAGE OF THE FAMILY. While shipment may be made from several points through out the United States, all requests should be sent to:
R.E. Grigsby, P.O. Box 217, Rehoboth Beach, DE 19971. Cost will be $24.25 for each copy - postpaid. Enclose check and shipping instructions for the number of volumes desired.

A few copies remain from the final printing of Memorabilia, I. In its 367 pages are contained some 160 profiles of Grigsby Family Members which have proven to be most valuable to researchers into their own lines of the family. The cost, postpaid is $17.00. Orders for Memorabilia, I will be shipped from Massachuetts.

WHO WAS DR. E.O. GRIGSBY, DeVIEW, ARKANSAS?

Dr. Grigsby was mentioned in the 1878, W.H. Grigsby Genealogy of the Grigsby Family (reprint, p. 347 of Memorabilia, II). Society member, Frances Miers Muller, (CA) writes this interesting note: "Dr. Edward O. Grigsby was my great grandfather, born 1832 in Madison Co., Miss. died 1899 in Arkansas. In 1857 he was enrolled at St. Louis Medical College and his diploma is in the possession of my father Wesley Scott Miers of Hearne, TX. In 1861 Dr. E.O. Grigsby enlisted in the Madison Rifles which became Company I of the 10th Mississippi Regiment and for a year served as a private before he was commissioned assistant surgeon. In 1864 he was promoted to Surgeon and assigned to the 7th Alabama Calvary. After the War he returned to Miss. and in 1867 moved to DeView, Arkansas where he married Eliza Narl (or Norrill). He is buried in the Oddfellows Cemetery in DeView."

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Along These Lines

by Lindle Grigsby

Lutha and I will soon be making a trip to see our attorney about updating our will (a new grandchild is on the way) and while the changes are being made we are going to place a statement in our will concerning the disposition of all of our family research papers. This would include our records for over 70 different family surnames that we have studied in tracing our family tree.

I am encouraging all NGFS members to consider this same action. Each year many valuable records are unknowingly destroyed by family members when someone in their family dies and the survivors have no interest in continuing the family research. This loss of information could be invaluable to the society or to someone else who needs just that one fact to continue the documentation of their family line.

Whether you choose to assign your personal records to the NGFS or to a local library, or to some other family historian whom you know will treasure the records, you will at least know those records are safe and will be utilized by others for many years to come.

DALLAS 1992

I am working to have the 1992 Annual NGFS Meeting in Dallas, Texas. The exact weekend dates have not yet been finalized, but I am suggesting any of the last three October weekends -- October 16-18, October 23-25, or October 30-November 1, 1992. Remember this meeting will be designated primarily as the Annual Meeting of the Board. A brief general session will be held before the board meeting to canvas the votes for the new board members and to recognize those who are retiring from the board. No official program will be planned.

NASHVILLE 1993

The reason no official programs are planned for the Annual Meetings of the NGFS is to place our primary emphasis on the Triennial Meetings. At these special NGFS meetings programs, activities, and genealogical research are the heart of the gathering. The board meets, but the major emphasis of the entire weekend is the membership. Nashville, June 18-20, 1993, will be a Triennial meeting designed around the family. Special research sessions will be planned around Grigsby research; reports will be made concerning research in England; Tennessee research will be emphasized; and fun family activities will be planned.

June is "Fan Fair" month in Nashville and Country-Western fans from all over the U. S. will be in Nashville for those festivities. We will be meeting at the Wyndham Gardens Hotel, located near the airport in Nashville. The room rates will not be set by the Wyndham until June of 1992, but at that time we will establish a room rate and encourage you to make your reservations immediately.

Congratulations to Colonel Bill Grigsby, son of immediate past president William A. and Marge Grigsby, on his recent promotion. The ceremony was February 1, 1992, in Panama City, Florida.

FROM THE OFFICE OF THE ADMINISTRATOR

This year the membership directory will be mailed from this office. We are adding names of spouses and telephone numbers, which will make it a thicker booklet. Many thanks to Lutha and Lindle Grigsby for formatting it and printing the master copy for me.

We are happy that several of you updated your dues payments and thus avoided being removed to the inactive file. This year we had only 29 to remove, as opposed to 40 or more in years past. It is encouraging to see that number getting smaller, as our membership continues to grow.

Remember to send in any new discoveries or corrections in your family line genealogy. We also appreciate any other documented Grigsby data that you may come across in your research, even if it doesn't pertain to your immediate famly. There may be someone else out there looking for it who doesn't have access to your resources. Stay in touch.

MARGARET G. MOTTLEY, Administrator

NGFS LOGO

The executive committee of NGFS in session at Nashville, Tennessee, on April 13, 1991 approved the adoption of a seal or logo for the Society.

The seal (photo below) grew out of a design on the program of the 1986 meeting of the Southwest Chapter in Bossier, Louisiana, and appeared again with revisions on the cover of the program booklet of the National Society meeting in Springfield, Illinois, in 1990. Eunice Grigsby, Crossett, Arkansas, is credited with having developed the logo.

The seal will be used to certify a signature or authenticate a document, and the logo can be used on publications of the Society and on letterheads. The Society has an embosser which produces the seal in raised relief.

THE NEW SOUTHWEST CHAPTER PRESIDENT

EVERETT M. GRIGSBY has been a board member or officer of the chapter since its inception in Dallas. He helped the late Carroll Leonard with the revision of the Constitution and Bylaws and has assisted with the arrangements for three annual chapter meetings. Everett and his wife, Doris, have one daughter, Mrs. Clay (Stacy) Breuklander and grandson, Bo Duane. They reside in Tahlequah, Oklahoma, where Everett is a professor of Biology at Northeastern State University and Dr. Doris K. Grigsby is an Educational Specialist for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. He is a member of the Cherokee County (OK) Genealogical Society, the Bourbon County (KS) Historical Preservation Society and a Life Member of the Linn Co. (KS) Historical Society. Everett is a past president of the Tahlequah Kiwinis Club and has served as a Lt. Governor for the Texas-Oklahoma District of Kiwinis International. He has had the opportunity to serve in several presidencies including the NSU Faculty Council, the Oklahoma Ornithological Society, the Oklahoma Academy of Science and the John Gump (maternal great-great-grandfather) Family. Everett has headed an endangered bat species cave management and research team since 1980 through the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Oklahoma Department of Wildlife Conservation.

Everett has a keen interest in family history and has written the nominations of three of his great-grandparents (Grigsby, Gump and McLaughlin) for induction into the Linn Co. Kansas Historical Society Hall of Fame. He is working on the nomination of another set of grandparents this year to continue the written family legacy. He hopes that others will do the same.

As president of the Society's Southwest Chapter, Everett is interested in helping its membes fulfill their purpose of promoting fellowship, establishing lines of descent, collecting history of family lines, collecting memorabilia, encourage listing in National Registers of Grigsby family historical sites, and creating interest and support for the society, through the reunions, newsletters, and their continued personal activities.

SOUTHWEST CHAPTER MEETING

Mark your calendar for the 1992 Southwest Chapter meeting which will be held August 7-9 at the Holidome in Lafayette, Louisiana. Details will appear in the next issue.

FROM REUBEN AND ROSE GRIGSBY OF KENT

The following letter which was sent to the editor was dated 26 January 1992:

It is almost three months since we returned from our eventful holiday in USA and although, unfortunately, there is nothing momentous to report, little did we realize how preoccupied we would become in the quest to establish Immigrant John's birthplace.

Researching 17th Century Kent has opened up a new world to us. There are dozens of brilliant books and other documentation - we could spend the rest of our lives reading and not exhaust the supply. Also, there are thousands of records on microfilm at various libraries and,of course, main records offices. So far, we have visited libraries in fairly nearby towns such as Dover, Ashford, Canterbury and Folkestone. At Dover, Reuben found a vellum covered, parchment leafed book, printed in 1599. It described events on Court proceedings. It was such a thrill just to hold the lovely old book. Last week we went to Chatham, to search through lists of officers in the Militia from 1579 - 1900 - hoping, perhaps to find John amongst them. We found the book , but it wasn't as we expected, and revealed nothing. It wasn't a wasted journey, as we then walked to nearby Rochester and not only marvelled at the lovely old buildings everywhere, but found a very early Poll book for 1734 in the library. There were no Grigsbys listed, but we noticed a Thomas Mottley, a property owner living in Beckenham. We have sent a photocopy to Lutha of two Grigsbys listed in one of the Poll books for 1754.

We are off to Cyprus on Wed 29th for three weeks, but look forward to continuing our researching when we return.

Very best wishes to you all. Rose & Reuben

AS LEGEND GOES

The following letter, partially condensed, was sent to my grandfather, Thomas Adolph Grigsby, in 1934. The letter has been copied as written, except for the few deletions. There has no attempt to verify the historical or genealogical references made by Mr. White in the letter. My grandfather had a small photograph of Mr. White and on the folder was written: "Waitman R. White, 83 years, May 24=35." Cousin Waitman was eighty-two years of age at the time of his writing, and no doubt was trusting his memory for most of his information.

RECOGNITION

The following letter was received from Jeffrey C. Keller 4080 Sir Bors Ct. #201 St Louis, MO 63129:

A book has recently been published about my family in Denmark. Because of the fact that my wife Teresa L. Smith-Keller is a member of the Grigsby Society, the Society has also been mentioned in this book.

Under notes and referances it mentions that my wife is a member of the Society. It also mentions the fact that Aaron Grigsby had married Sarah Lincoln, the sister to Abraham Lincoln the 16th. President of the United States.

I just thought you might be interested in knowing that the Society had gotten honorable mention in a book being published in Denmark.

GRIGSBYS IN ENGLAND

During the last few years several different Grigsby descendants have been in contact with various genealogists in England. All were seeking to link the John Grigsby whose death is recorded in the register of Overwharton Parish, Stafford County, Virginia, October 11, 1730, to his English ancestry. A note in the register indicated he was "supposed to be one hundred and seven years old." This would place his birth in the early 1600's. One thing all of these English genealogists agree on is that Kent, England, was an area populated with Grigsbys in the 1600's when John was born.

Interestingly, a modern day family of Grigsby from Kent, England, recently joined NGFS. Some of you met Reuben and Rose Grigsby last summer while they were in the USA on vacation. Reuben and Rose are both interested in genealogy and are having a delightful time researching Grigsbys, particularly those associated with Kent.

An early Grigsby family who may possibly prove to be related to the John who died in Stafford County, Virginia, is Thomas and Elizabeth Grigsby. Elizabeth was the daughter of John and Mary (Fisher) Banks. Thomas and Elizabeth were married in the parish of Maidstone, where their marriage is recorded in the church register of All Saints, June 9, 1622. A John, son of Thomas Grigsby, was baptized there, August 8, 1624. To date no records have been found to show that he survived, or that he immigrated to America, but Reuben and Rose are having great fun familiarizing themselves with this family.

Elizabeth's brother, Caleb Banks, had a son named John, who became a well known London merchant. John left quite a collection of business and estate papers known as the Aylesford manuscripts. This collection is located in the archives of Kent. Books have been written about this man, and since his mercantile activities involved those who voyaged to foreign lands, it is hoped he may have had dealings with his cousins in America.

Rose and Reuben are reading a book titled, Sir John Banks, Baronet and Businessman. It contains several references to an Alexander Grigsby, believed to be the brother of the John mentioned above. As Alexander was on the verge of departing for the East in the service of the East India Company in 1658, Sir John Banks, gave him this advice, "Keep your accounts punctual...commit nothing to memory, which may fail you. ...keep a diary of all your transactions." This sounds a little like the advice of Hugh Blair Grigsby to his son as recounted in the last issue of the Newsletter, doesn't it! Sir John Banks loaned Alexander Grigsby money which he repaid on his return by selling diamonds which brought 242 pounds in London in 1676.

Although this family of Grigsbys may not be directly related to John, the immigrant to Virginia, it certainly provides interesting conversation! Rose and Reuben write, "Reuben and I hold long conversations about them. We'll never give up trying to solve the mystery.

Lutha Grigsby, Historian/Genealogist, 2719 Gainesborough, Dallas, TX, 75287

IN MEMORIAM

The society sends its heartfelt sympathy to the family of one of our members who taught in Alaska for many years. June Myers Grigsby, mother of NGFS member Bonnie Grigsby Howard of Sitka, died September 23, 1991. She was born in Mill City, Oregon. While visiting relatives in Kansas, she met Ernest J. Grigsby, a bank president and mayor. In 1940 the two of them crossed the border to Blackwell, OK, where they were married. Ten years later, after Ernest died, she went to Northwestern Teachers College in Alva, OK, where she was graduated in 1953. The following year she moved to Alaska and taught in state-operated schools in rural villages as well as in Juneau and Fairbanks. In 1968 she received her MA from the University of Alaska, Fairbanks in 1968, and then completed much of the work toward a doctorate. She not only taught, she did volunteer work with the elderly at the Sitka Pioneer Home and in the 1950s she obtained a pilot's license.

KENTUCKY GRIGSBYS OF THE 1800s

The editor of THE NELSON COUNTY PIONEER, Mary Ellen Moore, has granted permission for the following sketches on Grigsbys to be reprinted in this newsletter. These are from THE NELSON COUNTY RECORD, An Illustrated Historical & Industrial Supplement by Sam Carpenter Elliott, dated New Year 1896.

WILLIAM R. GRIGSBY, lawyer, was born in Nelson county, Ky, November 14, 1797, and was a son of Nathaniel Grigsby, a prominent farmer of his day. His education was received principally in the country schools of the county, and his first business was that of a school teacher. Afterwards he began to study law under Hon. James I. Dozier, who was at that time a prominent lawyer at the bar of Shepherdsville. It was in 1822 when he first began practicing his profession. Shortly afterwards he removed to Louisville and practiced successfully for five years. In the days of Andrew Jackson, he was the Whig nominee for the Legislature from Bullitt county for seven successive years. At first the party was not very strong, but he finally honorably won and served many years as a member of the Legislature from Bullitt and Nelson counties. He finally removed to Bardstown and became one of the leaders at the bar. He was not a lawyer who would accept a case for the mere fee. If he believed the case was a just one, he would exert all his energy and well known ability to gain it; and he feared no man at the bar. He was witty and eloquent, and what is more, he was honest. When he was in his ninetieth year, in answer to a friend's complimenting him upon his young looks for an old man; with a slight wave of the hand, he remarked: "Ah, my dear friend, I fear my days are few upon this earth. I have drawn so long upon the Bank of Time, that I fear my last draft will soon be returned." Mr. Grigsby was a loveable man. He was my neighbor for years, and how well I remember enjoying his company listening to his reminiscences of the past as he sat in his old "arm chair." In speaking of John Hays' oratory, he said to me: "I have heard Mr. Webster. Mr. Clay. Mr. Benton and Mr. Marshall, but firmly believe that if Mr. Hays had ever represented this district in Congress he could and would have crushed them all with one blow. Hays' voice was like music, and as a debater and a constructor of sentences, never had an equal during all my recollection in the annals of this country." Mr. Grigsby died in 1887. In 1844 he married Miss Martha A. Newman, sister of the late Judge John E. Newman of Louisville. Mrs. Grigsby died in 1892. They leave only three children: Colonel Beverly P. Grigsby, of the firm of Fulton Conway & Co. carriage supplies, Lousville, Ky., William B. Grigsby and Redmond T. Grigsby of Bardstown.

WILLIAM B. GRIGSBY was born August 19th, 1853 at Bardstown, Ky. He is a son of Wm. R. and Martha Newman Grigsby. He was educated at St. Joseph's College, Bardstown, and Lynnland College, Hardin county. From 1871 to 1877 he resided at McZade, Texas. In the latter year he returned to Bardstown where he engaged in farming up to 1888. In 1889 he entered his present business, then Carothers & Bro. When the latter retired the present company bought them out, and great success has attended the business since. Mr. Grigsby is a member of the City Countil, and is very watchful of the city's interests. In politics he is a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat. In 1894 he was married to Miss Nannie L. Davis, of Harrodsburg. They have a fine baby boy - William R. named for his grandfather.

BEVERLY P. GRIGSBY was born in Bardstown in May, 1849. He was educated at St. Joseph's College, graduating there. In 1886, he was married to Miss Kate Ella Willis, of Galveston, Texas. For a number of years Mr. Grigsby was in business in Galveston, Texas, and later in New Orleans, and later engaging in farming near Bardstown. A few years ago, however, he entered business in Louisville where he now is, as President of the extensive blacksmith and carriage supply house of Fulton, Conway & Co. This company, in its line, transacts about the largest volume of business in the city of Louisville. In the winter Mr. Grigsby and family reside in the city but in the summer season they rusticate at their beautiful home on the Bloomfield Pike, about two miles from Bardstown. They have an interesting and promising family of three boys and one girl, the latter a baby, the joy of the household.

FROM THE PEN OF THE LATE ROBERT E. GRIGSBY

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article by the late Robert E. Grigsby was sent to the editor in 1990. It certainly attests to his love of research and of writing. He had hoped that lists of Grigsbys counted in the 1790 census could be found for other states. Perhaps, one of our members will continue this research.

The 1990 Bicentennial Census
TWO HUNDRED YEARS AND COUNTING

In 1790, when the first United States census was taken, our Grigsby ancestors had been American Colonial residents for over a century. Some are listed in the military rolls of the American Revolutionary Army. Others were listed in some of the pre-1775 thirty eight individual colonial censuses taken by Governors for the English Privy Council from time to time. Following the 1776 Declaration of Independence, the 1787 Constitutional Convention and the Congress and Presidency Inauguration in 1789, came the task of unifying the new states and setting up a workable form of government. The taking of a census was not entirely based on its usefulness to provide social and economic information, but a compromise plan worked out by Congress making it possible to bring the thirteen new states into agreement on the payment of revolutionary debts incurred by the central government for the common defense during the seven years of Revolutionary War. This compromise plan has been called one of the great political achievements of our early history. Briefly, it went something like this:

When the Constitution was adopted in 1787, Congress consisted of a single House with each state having one vote. The larger states wanted greater representation while the smaller states held out for the 'one State, one vote' principle. What was finally worked out, making the Constitution acceptable to all, was to have TWO Houses; a Senate where all states would be equally represented and a House of Representatives whose membership would be based on the population of each State. In order to accomplish this, it was proposed that a census of the population be taken within three years and repeated each ten years thereafter. The Congressional Act was approved and within a year after George Washington became President, the first enumeration was made. The work was done by 17 U.S. Marshalls and an estimated 650 assistants under the supervision of Thomas Jefferson, Secretary of State. The enumerators traveled on horseback, furnished their own paper from whatever was available, pens and ink and asked for cooperation in answering six questions: 1) Name of Head of Family; 2) Free white males under 16; 3) Free white males over 16; 4) Free white females including heads of Families; 5) All other free persons; 6) Slaves. Many evaded the enumerators or gave conflicting statements due to a lack of understanding of the purpose and the inborn mistrust from ancient times when the term 'census' applied to purposes of taxation and military conscription. However, after some 18 months of work, at a cost of $44,377, the results were as follows:

Virginia (incl. Kentucky)	821,287*	Connecticut	237,946
Massachusetts (incl. Maine)	475,327*	New Jersey	184,139
Pennsylvania	434,373	New Hampshire	141,885
N. Carolina (incl. Tennessee)	429,442*	Vermont (admitted, 1791 & incl)	85,425
New York	340,120	Georgia (incl. Ala & Miss area)	82,548
Maryland	319,728	Rhode Island	68,825
S. Carolina	249,073	Delaware	59,096

* Maine was listed at 96,540; Tenn (SWTerritory) at 35,691; Kentucky at 73,677 population.

The population census began on August 2, 1790 and when completed showed a count of 3,929,214 Americans. The largest city was New York City, 33,131-followed by Philadelphia with 28,522-and Boston with 18,320. The 'center of population was determined to be just east of Baltimore, Maryland. The 1790 U. S. census is regarded as being the first in modern times to be conducted by a Nation. Great Britain began a modern census in 1801; France in 1836; Belgium in 1846; Italy in 1861; Germany in 1871; Russia in 1897 and Japan in 1920. In Biblical times the Romans prepared lists of people and property for taxation and military conscription. In 1066, following the defeat of England by William of Normandy, a count of the country's land, property and people was taken. The surviving records are known as 'Domesday Book.' During the 13th - 15th centuries some European cities counted their populations and it was the practice of various European and English churches to keep records of births, deaths and migrations - a practice that was carried out in colonial American days. The 1730 death of John Grigsby, 'supposed to be 107 years old' was in the St. Paul Church Register of King George County, Virginia.

Unfortunately, the returns for the states of Delaware, Georgia, Kentucky, New Jersey, Tennessee and Virginia were destroyed when the British set fire to the Capitol at Washington during the War of 1812. The loss of Virginia's original schedules for the first and second censuses was rectified in part from the manuscript census lists of the State made in the years 1782-1785 that were on file in Richmond. From this list and other available 1790 census records of this unique National inheritance, the following Grigsby listings as Head of Family appear:

Virginia	County	Date	Count
John Gregsby	Stafford	1785	3 White souls & 1 dwelling.
Sarah Gregsby	Fairfax	1782	7 White
Benjamin Grisbee	Rockingham	1784	6 White souls
Charles Grigsbey	Monongalia	1782	4 White
Benjamin Grigsby	Shenandoah	1783	5 White
Elisha Grigsby	Stafford	1783	4 White souls & 1 dwelling
John Grisbee	Rockingham	1784	7 White souls & 1 dwelling.

The 1790 count of 'under' four million population was disappointing to a public who had expected it to show 'over' four million - and, as President Washington explained, it probably was, allowing for those not found/counted and the subterfuge of others. European nations took notice of the U.S. census and a French commentator said, "The United States presents in its history a phenomenon which has no parallel. It is that of a people who instituted the statistics of their country on the very day they founded their government." And the value of the census was not lost on U.S. officials who, from an initial six questions asked in 1790, steadily increased the questions in the following decennial censuses to include information on housing, agriculture, manufacturing, minerals, businesses, religious bodies, judicial, immigrants, vital statistics, foreign trade and more. While the volume of questions continued to increase, as did the population, the methods of enumerating/processing were slow to change. The 1830 census was the first taken on preprinted forms supplied to the field enumerators. and the 1850 census was the first to separately count each member of a family and be sent to Washington for central tabulating. The 1870 census was the first that did not contain questions about slaves. The voluminous 1880 census was so slow and tedious to process that the clerically tabulated results were outdated before they could be finalized.

By 1890 the U.S. Marshalls had been replaced with civilian supervisors and a force of some 50,000 census takers, including women. A young engineer, Herman Hollerth, had introduced a mechanical means of tabulating data on a card that was punched and sorted which greatly improved data processing time. In 1902, an Act of Congress created the Census Bureau with a full time director and staff. The 1940 census data was processed on a new electronic computer known as UNIVAC, and by 1960 an even faster computer called FOSDIC completed the data processing time in three months. A recap of population growth during the first 200 years:

Where Americans live has been a subject of interest since the first census determined the population was overwhelmingly rural and the nations largest cities were New York, Philadelphia and Boston. As the population continued to move west, the demands of manufacturing, steel making, mining and industry increased the urban population at the expense of farm and rural. By 1890 the city had come into its own and New York, Chicago and Philadelphia numbered more than 1,000,000 with 28 others boasting more than 100,000. The center of population in 1890 was determined to be near Osgood, Indiana and has since moved into SE Missouri. And everywhere in 1890, the immigrant was in evidence reflecting how far the nation had come from its early British roots.

Almost one-third of the 62,947,714 counted in 1890 was a first or second generation American with the heaviest concentration being in the northeast and northcentral states. The 20 million or so immigrants who arrived between 1870 and 1910 were not altogether 'the tired, poor, wretched refuse, yearning to breathe free' as depicted in the Emma Lazarus poem, The New Colossus. Instead, it has been shown, they were more often an extraordinary, enterprising and self-sufficient folk who knew exactly what they were doing and did it quite well while taking advantage of the many opportunities for educated, skilled and willing workers.

The 1990 census is expected to confirm that California, New York, Texas, Pennsylvania and Illinois are the most populous states with New York City, Los Angeles, Chicago, Houston and Philadelphia leading the urban populations. The expected count of near 250,000,000 will rely heavily on the mail-out/mail-back technique, but even so the Census Bureau will hire some 480,000 temporary employees and use the latest computer developments to hasten the results at an estimated cost of $2.6 billion including the preliminary planning since 1984. While there will be many uses for the statistics gathered, the most important, as in 1790, will be the determination of how many representatives each state will have in Congress. Records for the first ten censuses (1790-1880) are available to historians, genealogists and those interested in family history. The 1890 schedules were destroyed by fire. The 1900 records are available for restricted use. Those after 1910 are closed. Federal law states that the information given can only be used for statistical purposes and not to identify the person or business giving it. A century of confidentiallity is considered abount right.

Cousinly regards,

Do-Best were built. However, if Do-Good and Do-Best ever existed, they have only been remembered in this legend.

Present owner: Duncan C. Spencer.

J. B. Driskill Home

Located 3.25 miles south of the Courthouse on the east side of State Route 47.

This house was built in 1854 by George Washington Barksdale, grandfather of the present owner. Originally, the house consisted of two rooms above two rooms, with a central hall on both floors. Later, two additions were made onto this log home and the house now appears in an "L" shape. There are chimneys at each end of the old section.

Present owner: J. B. Driskill.

Dykeland

Located just south of Randolph, about one-fourth mile north of State Route 607.

This house was built in the 1880's by Albert Bruce, a son of Charles Bruce of Staunton Hill. The land was formerly part of Morotock Plantation and is a portion of the Lower Quarter of John Randolph's "Roanoke."

Present owner: Randolph Smith.

Edgehill

Located .6 mile southeast of State Route 656, .4 mile south of intersection with State Route 604.

This was the home of Col. Clement Carrington. It was built in the third quarter of the eighteenth century. It later became the home of Hugh Blair Grigsby, the famous historian, who had married a Carrington girl. They lived here during the Civil War, and Grigsby may have been the only citizen of the county to support the Union. The house was made of brick and frame but burned in the 1930's. After it burned, the ruins were bought by R. Page Morton and the bricks used in building his house came from Edgehill.

Present owners: The present owners are descendants of Clement Carrington.

Edgeville

Located on the east side of State Route 47 and across from the Village Presbyterian Church in the town of Charlotte Court House.

This eleven-room house, named Edgeville because it was on the edge of town, was built before 1815 when it became the property of Paulina Cabell Read Legrand. Upon her death in 1845, she left the property to Louisa Cabell Carrington, wife of Henry Carrington. Their daughter, Agnes Gamble Carrington, married Joel Watkins Marshall and they made it their home until it burned in 1868. Then they moved into a two-room office on the property and this retained the name of Edgeville for many years. Other rooms have been added over the years.

Present owner: Reginald H. Pettus.

Elm Shade

Located south of State Route 651 about one-fourth mile from its intersection with State Route 654.

This Morton family home was built about 1759. It is situated on part of the original land grant given to Joseph Morton by King George II. Joseph Morton gave this property, in 1759, to his son, Josiah, who had been married October 3, 1757.[5] This two-story frame house has been in the Morton name ever since.

WASHINGTON STRANGE

My great-great-grandfather Washington Strange was born 26 Dec 1799 in Virginia. The area currently termed Kentucky was a part of Botetourt Co., VA, in 1770. The territory became Fincastle Co., VA, two years later. In 1776 the area became known as Kentucky Co., VA, and had its seat of government at Harrodsburg. In 1780 Kentucky Co. was divided into 3 smaller counties -- Lincoln, Fayette and Jefferson counties, VA. However, by some evidence in later research, Washington may have been born in York Co., VA.

William Strange, the father of our Washington, was born 2 Apr 1732 York Co., VA, and died 12 Dec 1829 in Garrard Co., KY. Nothing is known of the mother for certain. But we are trying to corroborate he being married to a Cloe Cornwell, as she is listed in her father's will, which you will find on page 4. The other children in the family were William born ca 1770 -- Elizabeth born ca 1772 -- Cornwell born ca 1775 and Mary "Polly" born ca 1782 -- all born in York Co., VA.

The oldest son William died after 1810 in Orange Co., IN. His will is also on page 4. Elizabeth married Samuel Grigsby 25 Mar 1818 Lincoln Co., KY. Cornwell married a woman named Eliza and raised a family of 10 children. He died 1835, no doubt in Orange Co., IN. Mary "Polly" married Aaron Grigsby 10 Dec 1812. Cornwell, however, was found in 1830 living in Washington Co., IN, so perhaps he died there 5 years later in 1835.

Washington Strange most likely grew up in the locality of his birth; nothing is found to date on his parents that is adequate proof to establish the area of his childhood or education. On 5 Jun 1800 in Garrard Co., KY, Washington married Miss Mary Copelin (Copeland), daughter of Jacob and Ann Copelin -- (marriage bond on page 3 and Ann Copelin will on page 2). They lived in the same vicinity seemingly, for about 42 years; trading and buying land, horses and slaves, until he became quite independent in his financial affairs. Washington seemed to get his start from the governor of Kentucky, James Garrard; involving his marriage bond and his bondsman, Cornwell Strange, who no doubt was his brother. Also, Washington's name was linked quite often with that of his father-in-law Jacob Copelin, in business affairs dealing with land and slaves. Washington had a stone quarry in Garrard Co., near the location of Dicks River. Where the mill once stood, it has been transformed into beautiful man-made Herrington Lake. Washington and Mary continued to live in this same pattern of life, rearing their large family and seeing them married off to start homes of their own. On several of their marriage bonds the devoted father's name appears.

Sometime between his career as father and business man, tragedy struck in what seemed to be a happy contented home life: when 2 of his younger children, a son and daughter, were struck by lightening and killed. Then some years later in 1842 or '43, Washington, at the age of 63 and wife Mary, with his household and slaves, moved to Clay Co., MO -- why, we do not know. A grandson Jacob is found living with them later. 2 daughters names are given on an 1850 Clay Co. census; whether visiting or widows, hasn't been determined. On 1 Apr 1854 Washington died age 73, and is buried near Liberty, MO, the county seat where his estate papers are on file

CORNWELL FAMILY CEMETERY
Stampers Creek Township Section 12 Twp 1 North Range 1 East
Abandoned

PETER CORNWELL, b VA & mar. KY, went to KY & then to Orange Co., IN in 1815. This farm where he settled belongs to some of his descendants. For many years this was called the A. J. Pickens farm: Mr. Pickens having married Nancy Cornwell. There are perhaps 10 graves in this neglected burial plot; only one of which has an inscription. The stone is broken & leans against a tree, which has grown up in the group of graves. The well cut inscription reads, viz:

Sacred to the memory of Peter Cornwell, who was born
12 June 1780 married 1 June 1802 died 1 Oct 1842

Elizabeth Arterburn Cornwell, wife of Peter, is known to be buried there also. She died after Oct 1842, as she is named in his Will. Descendants of this couple are buried in the Stampers Creek Church Cemetery in Paoli Township.

WOLFE FAMILY CEMETERY
Stampers Creek Township Section 18 Twp 1 North Range 1 East

Located in the North West quarter of the section, on the Henry Wolfe farm, now owned by Charley Trinkle. Henry Wolfe was born in VA, and his wife Lucy Grigsby Wolfe, came to this county from KY in 1813.

They were the parents of 12 children. The parents of Henry, John and Elizabeth Cornwell Wolfe, are said to have come also. If so, they are probably buried in this family graveyard. There are several graves with no markers. The following inscriptions were copied by Mr. Earl Coulter, R.R.D., Paoli, IN

16 years old he came with his parents and eight other children to this section to live, locating about thirteen miles south of Franklin.

"The travel in those days was by wagon, four-horse wagons being used exclusively. Oxcarts were also very popular. The roads were rough and Indians and wild animals were numerous. The trip was made without accident, however. Long since his parents and all except one of his sisters and brothers passed away.

"During the war between the states Mr. Grigsby served as a Confederate soldier and bore hardships incident to army life. His entire life was spent upon the farm and to regular habits he attributed his wonderful activity.

"Last October he celebrated his 96th anniversary with a family dinner. Time passed so rapidly with him that he celebrated these occasions only every five years. At the last celebration all of his children except one, with his grandchildren and great-grandchildren, were present.

"Through all these years, which were nearing the century mark, Mr. Grigsby retained the respect and confidence of all. For by his honesty and integrity he proved to all that he was a citizen deserving of the highest encomiums."

Border Settlers of Northwestern Va pg 46 & 47 author?

Touching the Grigsby tragedy mentioned by Withers" (15) Mr. Bond writes me: "Bethia, the wife of Charles Grigsby, whose house was raided on Grigsby's Run, a branch of Booting Creek, June 1777, was buried with her infant where killed near the top of the ridge on Lost Creek, opposite the village of that name. The grave was never marked. I stood by the side of her grave in June 1878 - 121 yrs. after her death - and it was just as it was seventy years ago when I first saw it, a slight depression in ground. Her little child had been dead some time when the mother was killed, but she still carried it in her arms. Above gives Reuben's mothers name

Charles first married circa 1762 a run-away indentured Welch girl named Elizabeth Lyttle. To avoid her master (who had shown her much cruelty) locating them Charles removed from the Piscataway to the Allegheny Frontier.

It was in this general area he served under Capt. Zackquil Morgan. in the vicinity of the Three Rivers 174 days et was paid Oct 4, 1775, 13 pounds, one shilling.

His residence was some miles removed from Fort Pitt on Grigsby Run a branch of Rotting Creek.

On a day in June 1777, while Charles was absent from home the Indians came. After the massacre of four of the Grigsby children the Indians took the mother, the small baby et Reuben (who was about 4yrs. of age.) et left the area. Within some time the infant died yet the mother cont. to carry it in her arms. After some hours of travel the Indians killed the mother as she couldn't keep pace. Reuben, who they had grown attached, they carried away on their shoulders.

Upon returning to the homestead Charles found the tragedy that had fell upon him. Gathered others and a pursuit was made many miles until his wife & child were found. As night was upon them, Charles was left to bury his dead et those with him returned to their homes for fear the Indians might raid their property. Charles interred his wife et child where he found them. In June, 1898, the grave had not been marked. Situate near the crest of a ridge across from Lost Creek in West Virginia.

He appears in Michael Robek's district Monogalia Co, Pennsylvania 1782-1787. On July 3, 1788-1789 in Jefferson Co, Ky with one male over 21 et 4 horses. Again in Monogalia Co, Pa. 1790. By 1795, he was in Shelby Co, Ky. Four years later in Muhlenberg Co, Ky.

He married second to Mary Bradford by whom he had 1 Mary who married Tobias Wise 2 Sarah b. 12 Nov. 1780, d. 25 Aug 1852 et married in 1799 to Stephen Williams 3. Wilkerson b. 1782 married twice. 4. Aaron b. 1788; d. 1818 md. 25 Aug 1813 Levina Chapman. Left will in Ohio Co. with: by Stephen et Sally Williams, Tobias Wise, et Fulkard Fulkerson. 5 Nathaniel, b. 30 June 1789; d. 16 May 1856; married twice. Bur. in Cem. at Pond Run Baptist Ch. 6 Nancy b. 1791; m 3 Feb. 1808 Fulkard Fulkerson. Ohio Co. Times Hartford, Ky 5 Sept 1974 by Julia & W.J. Shull (

After seven or eight yrs. et bounty pd. to the Indians Reuben was with other captives returned to his people.

For reasons unknown he never wanted to live with his father. Reuben married in Nelson Co, Ky in 1801 to Nancy Barker. Lived in Ohio Co. until 1817 when he removed to Sect 18 Clay Twp. Spencer Co. Indiana He made an excellent home for his family et died in Carroll Co Missouri in 1858. His children were reared et educated with Abraham Lincoln. His son Charles bought the Lincoln home after Abraham's family removed to Ill. His wife et several members of his family were buried at Lincoln City.

By 1799, Charles had located on Pond River in Muhlenberg. In 1800 et 1801, he paid tax on 200 acres bought from Charles Greiger third rate land. In 1802 his tax in the county was on 4 horses et he had 1 male over 21 yrs. Again in 1803.

By 1807, he is across Green River in Ohio Co, where he bought 150 acres next to son-in-law Stephen Williams from Daniel S. (4) Morrison. Being part of Isaac Morrison's 4,587 acre survey. He paid $187.50 situate: Doe Run et Green River some 300 yds below the mouth of Graves Run. Witt: S. Rose, Remus Griffith, George Bruce, et Robert Mosely.

This land would be on Green River very near the old "Williams Landing." It would also be in the vicinity of Pond Run Baptist et Hopewell Methodist. At the same time Philip Fulkerson, Sr. bought land from the same party out of the same survey. Philip Sr. became Nancy Grigsby's father-in-law. Noteworthy too Pond Run Baptist is on this Morrison Survey sold to Philip Fulkerson Sr.

Ohio Co. 1810 shows Charles with one male over 45; one male 18-26 one female over 45.

On May 6, 1816 Charles sold his Morrison tract of 150 acres for $200.00 to Samuel Huntsinger. By now he was an aged person et the deed shows he did not sign his name but made his mark. It is assumed he could write as his father did et from his background.

The years 1817, 1818, 1819, he was in Muhlenberg. By 1819, he would have lived 83 yrs. Whether he removed to Indiana or died in Muhlenberg or elsewhere is unknown.

Although he lived but briefly in Ohio Co., he left a legacy in descendants who were born, reared, married, bore issue et died in our county in the great current families of: Wise, Williams, Davenport, Taylor, Wakeland, Fulkerson, Benton, Grigsby, Kerley Wallace, Bartlett et Barnett naming a few.

Tom Lincoln explained Reuben Grigsby's stone mill for making applejack, to Abe.

Tom made casks for Reuben's applejack, while Abe girdled trees to deaden them.

The Lincolns had been in Ind. only a few weeks before Abe saw Reuben Grigsby, Sr. Before sunup one morning a middle-aged man, wearing a chicken feather in his hat, limped along through the woods. He moved silently. Abe watched him climb onto the top rail of fence & face eastward. Just as the sun rose over the horizon the man flapped his arms and crowed like a rooster. Reuben Grigsby, Sr. was going through religious rite learned while a captive boy among Indians. When Abraham mentioned it to his fa., Thomas repeated what he had heard others say, "Reuben Grigsby, he is just like an Indian"

Mrs Lincoln & Sarah met Aaron Grigsby a 14 yr old at the spring. He dipped water up for them to wash clothes.

A Message of Welcome and Program Overview

From: Donald F. Ephlin and Alfred S. Warren, Jr.

EDUCATING OUR PEOPLE TODAY
TO MAKE THE DECISIONS OF TOMORROW

We are pleased to welcome you to a bold new educational process: the Local Paid Educational Leave Program. Based on the path-breaking National PEL program, this local version has been established to bring a new level of information to the entire UAW-GM workforce.

The input of all employes into the decision-making process is no longer merely a desirable goal in General Motors — it is a necessity. Local PEL will help provide the basis to make it a reality.

The information you will receive in this program will help you in this decision-making process, and provide you with an opportunity to make a difference in creating your future.

The PEL process has proved to be a highly successful innovation in labor-management relations in the US. The UAW and General Motors are pleased to be able to welcome you as a participant in this unique joint venture.

Nina letter of 11-8-1988

Elizabeth (Lamasters) Grigsby, and had an older brother Robert who was a farmer in White Co., IL, and an older sister Elizabeth who had married Joseph Reed. Both Robert and Elizabeth were deceased by 1914.

According to Stormont, Geo. was a plasterer by trade and spent his entire life in Posey Co. His wife was born in Newburgh, IN, the daughter of Simeon and Elizabeth (Heinman) Lamasters who had been married in 1817. Simeon had been a soldier in the Mexican war.

Elizabeth Grigsby died in 1844 and George in 1846. Stormont said their 3 children were reared by their uncle and aunt, Joseph and Mary Makemson of Patoka Township.

Francis M. served in the Civil War, was captured and spent 30 days in a Confederate prison, was paroled + then returned to the Union Army. After the war he married Lucy Finney whose parents had been Gibson Co. pioneer settlers. He worked as a carpenter and later became custodian of the public library and the M. E. Church.

Stormont didn't mention his first wife's death or his second marriage and they listed only the following children: Sadie m. W. F. Hill of Los Angeles, CA -- trained nurse
John of Princeton, IN -- carpenter
Ed -- deceased
Lena married John Finney of Princeton
Ben -- deceased
Fern, at home
Elizabeth, at home.
Comparing this data with that in the Family Group Sheets Nina sent me shows that there's a lot of work to be done on this family.

This shows, though, that the Robert Grigsby of White Co., IL, was a son of George Grigsby and a grandson of Toliver Grigsby.

I found it rather puzzling, however, that Stormont claimed that George's 3 kids were brought up by Joseph and Mary Makemson but there was a couple by that name in the 1850 Gibson Co. census and they had no children in their household. If Robert were born in 1839, he'd have been only 11 in 1850. Elizabeth would have been about 10 and Francis about 6.

I found no trace of a Robert Grigsby in the 1850 Gibson Co. census. I DID find a Francis, age 4, living with Winny Grigsby. If he were the youngest child of George Grigsby, Winny would have been his grandmother and the logical person to be taking care of him. You'll notice that there's an 11-year-old girl named Indiana in the same household. I HAD thought that she might have been an orphan of Bailey and Martha (Yeager) Grigsby s. Now I wonder if she could have been Francis' sister. She might have been less than crazy about the name Indiana and might have decided later to use her middle name (if she had one) instead. Perhaps Robert worked for someone as a farm hand. If he weren't an actual relative, it would have been fairly

CHRISTMAS 1987

Another year has passed and the holidays are fast approaching. For a change we are all ready for Christmas and looking forward to being with all the family at David's this year.

Mauri and Chad will be home from Iowa on the 22nd for 10 days. Mauri had high hopes of being transferred to Michigan this past summer. One job and three employees were transferred to Coopersville. Mauri was fourth on the list. He and Chad were very disappointed; but with the auto industry making so many changes, who knows where they might be next year?

Our summer was filled with grandchildren and their friends. In fact, one week we had seven of them which made for an interesting week. We enjoy them as much as they enjoy being here at the lake. Lisa, Nathan (Dan's) and two of their friends, also the dog, spent Thanksgiving weekend with us. The dog enjoys the lake better than anyone.

This coming year will bring forth a couple of major events for us. In January Shelly and Tim will present us with our first great grandchild. The family couldn't be happier. The second event is that I will be old enough for Social Security. Now, how can that be?

We were surprised with Cable TV this summer. We didn't think we would ever be found back here in the "boonies". We receive 27 channels. Maurice likes the sports channel while I enjoy the old movies.

We had thought our major projects here at the lake were over, but Thanksgiving weekend our roof decided to leak. That takes care of next spring! We have a fellow up here who will come and help Maurice. He has helped with several of our projects and he is an excellent worker at the right price.

Dave and Anita are working with the Mental Health Center now. They have a halfway house for people who are in need of temporary housing. They have a man and woman right now. Pat and Dorothy are learning to cope with their emotional problems and it shouldn't be too long before they can be back into their own homes.

Andy and Yonda stay so busy with their jobs and all those rentals. The boys are busy with their sports, band and all the school activities. It's just like a beehive around their home.

The same is true at Dan's. Jerry went to work again, which she had not planned to do, but Magnavox made her an offer she couldn't refuse. She likes her job and it's one she can leave at work and not bring it home with her as she did the one at the Youth For Christ. Politics changed in Ft. Wayne's last mayoral election and Dan is being considered for Police Chief. Dan has been sergeant on night patrol now for three years and he is really hoping for a day job out of the changes made. We really have mixed emotions about Dan being involved in the political scene; but his integrity is above reproach and we know they are looking for someone like that.

Maurice's glaucoma is still a worrisome thing, but he does have a good doctor and he keeps close check on Maurice. He put him on a new eye drop in November and hopefully, that will lower the pressure.

We hope all of you have a very Merry Christmas and we wish you all the very best in the coming New Year.

aged 16 yr. 4 mo. 24 days. You are not dead to us,
But as a bright star unseen,
We hold that you are ever near,
Though death intrudes between.

Our father, Silas WILSON, died July 16, 1896, aged 74 yr. 8 mo. 13 days. Go home, my friends, and do not weep,
I am not dead but here do sleep,
Tho cold and silent is my bed,
My rest secure, my sorrow's fled.

Francis H., son of Z. & O. J. TUCKER, born Jan. 19, 1874, died Dec. 7, 1893, aged 19 yr. 9 mo. 18 days.
A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled;
Yet again, we hope to meet thee,
When the day of life is fled,
Then in heaven with joy to greet thee,
Where no farewell tear is shed.

Charles, son of C. S. & C. J. WILSON, born Oct. 22, 1893, died Dec. 22, 1893. A little time on earth he spent, Till God for him His angel sent.

Perry Everett, son of C. S. & O. J. WILSON, born May 13, 1886, died Dec. 9, 1900. Tis hard to break the tender chord,
When love has bound the heart,
Tis hard, so hard, to speak the words,
We must forever part.
Dearest Perry, we must lay thee,
In the peaceful graves embrace,
But thy memory will be cherished,
Till we see thy heavenly face.

BARBARA GINK

Barbara Pink →

I'm a Grigsby on my mother's side but was amazed to find some Grigsbys on my dad's side. This information comes from a privately published book, "The Lyles of Washington County, PA", compiled by Alvin Dinsmore White and published about 1960 or so by The Enterprise Press in Bargettstown, PA. An updated edition has come out and if you are interested, you could contact Paul E. Kaup, Lyle Family Historian, 330 Holiday Drive, Pittsburgh, PA 15237-2025.

Two brothers, Robert and John Lyle (with John's wife and son) left Belfast in 1741 and arrived in NY in 1742. After some time spent in NJ, during which time Robert married Mary Gilliland (they were my great great great great grandparents), the Lyles made their home in Northampton County, PA. About 1784 they moved westward to Washington Co., PA.

Eleanor Lyle (John's second daughter) married Wm. Kerr, Jr. (grandson of Robert Lyle) and a granddaughter of their daughter Eleanor Kerr (who married Joseph Hays) married a Grigsby, thus:

b. Diane Jean Grigsby b 26 Nov 1951
6. Ruth Eleanor Grigsby b 2 May 1929

Note: Eleanor Lyle was a granddaughter of Robert Lyle - her father was a son of the first Robert Lyle to come to America. I tend to have a little trouble keeping generations in their proper places.

The present members of the Eleanor Kerr branch of the Lyle family live at Eldersville, PA and at Carrollton, OH.

If you know to which Grigsby branch John Bentley Grigsby belongs I'd really appreciate any information you may have.

Co., Iowa. Have been meaning to check them out but they never quite climb to the head of the list of letters I plan to write.

Yes, Casander Harrison Grigsby was the daughter of Jeremiah Harrison and Rebeckah Johnston who had married in Livingston Co., KY, in 1799. I have noticed that there were many Jeremiahs among the Harrisons. There was one in Augusta Co., VA, in earlier times, and several in early KY census records. I've come to the conclusion that this is probably where mine came from. Here are the Jeremiah Harrisons from KY censuses:

Jeremiah Harrison	Fayette Co. Tax list	6/1789
	Woodford Co. " "	5/1790
	Livingston Co." "	3/1800
	" " "	3/1800
	Woodford Co. " "	8/1800

None in 1810 although there WAS a Jeremiah Harris in Garrard Co., KY 00100-10100-00 that year
Jeremiah Harrison Owen Co. 1820 census p. 103 NTL

My Jeremiah died in 1819 so there was still a Jeremiah in KY after he left there sometime between 1799 and 1812 when he served in the War of 1812 from Indiana. I don't know if the 2 in 1800 in Livingston Co., KY, were 2 different men or just a duplicated record of one. But there was also one in Woodford Co. I just looked at the map and it's interesting to note that Fayette and Woodford adjoin one another and that Livingston is not far (just a couple of counties to the southwest) from southwestern Indiana where my Jeremiah moved.

There is no record of the children of Jeremiah and Rebeckah other than a daughter Elizabeth (probably married) who was mentioned in his will. If Casander hadn't been my ggg grandmother, I wouldn't have any knowledge of her either. There was a marriage between Rebeckah Harrison and Benjamin May in Dec. 1820 (I think this is right but I don't have the data right here at my fingertips so use this information with caution) but no ages or anything given. This could have been the widow (a Benjamin May was a witness to the will so was probably a family friend) or another daughter. Casander was 15 in 1820 when she and Demps were married so there could have been another daughter about the right age. So far there's no way of deciding which she is more likely to have been -- daughter or widow.

Guess I ought to do some work in Livingston Co., KY, and see if there are any records on Harrisons and Johnstons but both are such prolific lines that I haven't had the courage to tackle that project yet.

I shouldn't be wary of such a project. My great grandmother was a Smith and when I started on her line all I knew was that they'd come to Oregon from Barry Co., MO, in 1853. Well, I found them there in the 1850 census and it told me that the 4 oldest children had been born in Illinois. Then I found a cousin with some family Bible information that said the parents were married in 1832 in Illinois. Her father's name was John Nichols so when I was in Salt Lake City last year I looked in all the 1830 census indexes for Illinois counties with both Benjamin Smith and John Nichols. By golly, I found it! It was Clinton Co. and a local history book (one of those 1880 jobs) suggested to me that they'd come from Christian Co., KY. Since Ben had been born in KY, this seemed a good place to look. A Samuel Smith had died there about the time Ben moved to Illinois and as Ben's first son was named Samuel, it seems a fair assumption that he was Ben's father. This is another area I need to get back into. But at least I'm not afraid to search for Smiths so maybe when I get to it, Harrison and Johnston won't be as bad as I fear!

I got really excited when I looked up my Foxes in the new IGI. (There wasn't anything new in the Grigsby line that I found anywhere, darnit!) Someone has entered my grandfather Charles Austin Fox's first marriage. I want to get a printout of the entry sheet as soon as it's available but it's still too recent. Also, found that someone has been submitting material on his ancestors in NY state. I sent for those printouts and am hoping they'll come soon before I'm eaten up with curiosity!

Davey needs an assistant to help him check out a pickup that he's working on so I must sign off. I was about "out of data" anyway (that's what my computer is always saying to me!).

Thanks again for writing and for all the goodies you sent me. I'll pass it along to Nina Bowen (a descendant of Toliver) and see if it helps her any.

Much love,

Barbara

Dear Shirley,

Thanks for the material you dug out for me -- much appreciated -- and my apologies for not having answered your letter sooner. Things have a way of getting away from me, it seems. I keep telling myself it's NOT because of my age but since my 60th birthday last Oct. it's been obvious to my that I'm slowing down faster and faster!

Our harvest began June 20th and we finished the last varieties July 17th. We had about a week layoff while we waited for the freezers to get ripe enough to suit the buyers. At least this year we had enough pickers and were able to get the harvest done in 22 days of picking. The last 6 days we had only about a third of a crew because there aren't all that many cherries involved.

My little helper (Alicia, a 22-year-old Mexican girl who has been coming here with her family since she was 8 years old) worked out more beautifully than we could ever have hoped or imagined. The only problem was having room in the office for 2 people to work paying the pickers. By next harvest I hope we will have done some remodelling -- a floor-to-ceiling storage and work area with counter/desktop work space and room for the computer, typewriter, calculator and paper cutter plus shelves and drawers so everything will be handy and right at our fingertips. There are times when we need a second guestroom (with 2 daughters living away from here, one with 2 children and the other will 1) so we plan to find a small sofabed to replace this monstrous old double bed.

I've fallen into the bad habit of dreading harvest but this little project will help me to look forward toward next year's harvest with a more positive attitude.

It took me the rest of July to fight my way through all this stupid paperwork which the bureaucrats require of us. Because we have 3 orchards, all payroll, etc., must be kept separate so I had something like 12 deadlines to meet between July 17th and tomorrow.

Joan (our 28-year-old daughter who lives in Beaverton, on the west side of Portland) had her second child a week early on August 1 at 2:06 p.m. Ryan Alexander Chaichi (Persian name pronounced Ch-eye-chee) was 21 inches long (I don't know where THAT came from because none of us are tall!) and weighted 7 lbs., 7 oz. He has oodles of dark hair and dark greyish (I think) eyes. Hard to tell if his eyes will be brown, gray, or hazel. Both our girls have hazel eyes but they're so dark that many people think they're brown like mine. Davey's eyes are a blue-gray and Casey's are green! My mother's eyes were hazel, my dad's brown; one of Davey's parents had gray eyes, the other brown and of their 4 children, 2 had gray and 2 had brown eyes.

I went down to stay with Joan from Mon. to Friday of last week, just for company. She and her husband are so neat and tidy that things don't have a chance to get into a mess (like our house does because we're farmers and we have to have so many things like tools and supplies handy and they don't always get put away, especially since there isn't always anyplace to put them this side of the outside shop!) but she had asked me to come down because she was afraid she might get the blues. She's such a laid-back, self-contained person that this comes as a shock to me. But maybe she enjoys the fact that I can just sit and watch TV or read or work puzzles quite happily without worrying about my work at home not getting done.

We tried to get out for a while every day so she wouldn't go stale on this 24-hour-a-day period when the baby eats every 3 or 4 hours. They have so many handy fast-food places nearby that I enjoy it and Joan appreciated my help in transporting the 2 youngsters here and there. It's terribly hard for one person to go anywhere with 2 kids and especially in a city where there are so many cars in the parking lots to worry about. And Portland has had 3 freeway shooting incidents (1 killing, 1 wounding and 1 miss) in the past 10 days.

We had a good week and I plan to go down again Wed. for a couple of days to help Joan get Ryan to his doctor on Thurs. for his appointment. I was really amazed to see how much the little guy had filled out in just a week! Davey and I had gone to Portland last Friday on business and popped in to inspect our newest. All little boys, it seems, have scrawny little pipestem legs at first but when I left Friday, he had noticeably plumped up. I guess little boys just eat better than little girls. At least it's been that way with ours and Joan's.

I left Joan's at 3, expecting to miss rush hour traffic and be home by 5 but I ran into a jam before I got to the river, inched my way across the bridge and onto I-84 where we inched along for the next hour. I saw only one accident scene (must have been 8 motorcycle police there!) but there must have been others that they'd been cleaning up. Then when the traffic finally got sorted out about 50 miles west of here, I thought I might be home by 5:30 but at Hood River (20 miles west of here) we again got pulled up and didn't find out why until we came to Mosier where a train had started a grassfire and high winds had spread it rapidly. There were firetrucks from a hundred miles away coming from all directions, planes bombing it in the inaccessible places, and smoke you wouldn't believe! I had begun to think I'd never get home but I made it just after 6. What a trip!

When I got home I found all the mail that had come for the week spread out on the davenport. It took me an hour to work through just the part that was for me and poor Davey had been so busy he hadn't had time all week to go through his. Our son and family went to the beach for 5 days so Davey was doing all the irrigating, plus the mowing. He had planned to work at the finishing of a cabin (plumbing and sheetrock perfataping) but just didn't have time.

Casey decided they'd better go now while we were waiting for the shower stall to come in because little Josh will be going back to school the first of Sept. and they just wouldn't be able to go if they waited. They've needed a vacation for several years and I'm hoping this will clear away some of the cobwebs in their relationship. They've been having some trouble this year and it's affected us all so we're keeping our fingers crossed that they'll iron things out.

I had hoped to be able, with Alicia taking the outside checking (6 a.m. to 6 p.m.) off my shoulders, to keep my hand in on my genealogy during harvest but it just wasn't meant to be and I've lost my place. I'm having to start all over again and boy! does that hurt my feelings! I had such a clear view of things before and now it's all gone.

Also, while I was out for harvest, the local LDS Library (where I'm a non-member librarian) acquired a whole bunch of new micro-fiche records. They got the new IGI in and there's a great deal of new research gone into it since the last one came out. Also they received Vol. 1 of Everton's "Root Cellar". I looked up Grigsby in it and found about 4 or 5 researchers I'd never heard of before. Must write them soon and see what lines they're on.

When our head librarian called me to crow about all the microfiche they'd received she offered to order a couple of the Indiana Census films I mentioned needing. I had expected them to be in about now but they came in 20 days! They must be running extra copies of census films these days. For awhile there, you had to wait for months at times and I guess they must have gotten a bunch of static over it and are taking steps to do something about it. They used to discourage libraries from keeping films on indefinite loan but once you've read a census film, you have to keep referring back to it as you learn of new family connections.

Do you have a nearby LDS Library? I don't suppose Mormon churches are very plentiful back there, it being centered out here in the west. Ours is staffed by some really dedicated people who can't do enough to be helpful. They're really nice people!

I just found another new Creighton source of information down in California through Davey's Rickard line. Must follow up on that. Also, would like to have the address of your Vernette Nichols so I can contact her. I haven't done much with this family because there was so much to do on the other lines but I did put it into the LDS Family Register and have had a couple of inquiries as a result.

One time I was casually checking out the Davis Co. 1850 census -- just because it was in the library on indefinite loan -- and found my great great grandfather's brother, David Creighton, who wound up eventually in California. I've also found some Craigtons in Franklin

Dear Shirley,

Bless you heart! That was wonderful of you to take those pictures of Abigail's grave and send them! Thank you.

I had two mind-boggling letters this week about Demps' ancestry. Prof. Carroll Leonard who had been on the Board of Directors of the Southwest Chapter of NGFS died last year and some way or another Jo Ann Brown and others who have been working on the Grigsby genealogy got together with Dean Leonard who has put his father's material on computer disks. As a result, suddenly they have announced that Demps was the son of Samuel Grigsby (1765-1860) and Franky Cornwall(1770-1810), the grandson of Samuel Grigsby (1724-1781) and Ann Grigsby (1742-1825), the great grandson of James Redmond Grigsby (1686-1752) and Susanna Redmond (1701-1752) and the great great grandson of John Grigsby "The Emigrant" and Jane Rosser. (This doesn't allow for another John Grigsby between the Emigrant and James R. but many of us are convinced that there WAS such a John as explained in Memorabilia I -- what remains, evidently, is proof of that) The following are Demps' brothers and sisters as they are listed on the Family Group Sheet Irene Bowie sent me:
Samuel (1787-1815) m Sally Davis
John (1788-1841) m (1) Hester Sharp and (2) Eliz. Louisa Thompson
Aaron (1789-1860) m Mary A. Strange
Toliver (1790-1838) m Winifred Johnson
William (1792-1878) m Anna Cornwall
Charlotte (1793-) m John Lucas
Lucy (1794-) m Henry Woolf
Moses (79-1867) m (1) Delilah Strange (2) Anna Armstrong
Dempsey (1800-1875) m (1) Casander Harrison (2) Thurza Stapleton
Two daughters names, dates, spouses unknown

This would mean that our Samuel (1724-1781) was a brother of your Nathaniel. Right?

I'll be putting this data into the computer soon (I hope!) and will send you a printout if you'd like.

I sympathize with you and your struggles with your portable typewriter. I had one of those and this year we finally decided to junk it in favor of a Panasonic Electronic Typewriter that all but tips its hat at me. We belong to a wholesale club down in Portland and it cost us only $200! I can code in certain addresses (as for instance our return address on this envelope or the employer name, address, and ID number on the many, many W-2 forms we have to make out for our cherry pickers). It really saves a lot of time. So far, I've mostly just been having fun with it but it really does take a lot of the pain out of payroll tax reports, etc. We have to keep our 3 orchards (no, they're not all that big but the ownership and management is different on all of them) separate so that makes for a lot of reports. I had 14 payroll tax deadlines between July 15th (before we even finished picking, for heaven's sake!) and Aug. 15th this year! And I've got a dilly coming up in October that I've got a real case of the Dreads about!

We're going up to British Columbia about the 22nd to spend a few days with our youngest, Dorothy, and her family. They've lived up their for 2 years now and are still waiting to give us the Grand Tour of Vancouver and environs. The weather should be more civilized by then and we're really looking forward to it.

Harvest and the payroll (records and all) took up most of June and July. Then our middle kid, Joan, who lives in Beaverton (just on the west edge of Portland) had a baby boy on Aug. 1st: Ryan Alexander, 7 lbs., 7 oz., 21 inches long. I spent half of August running back and forth between here and there, just to be some company for Joan. She's used to working fulltime so it's easy to lose touch with the rest of the world when you're suddenly stuck at home all the time and on duty for 24 hours a day. This is her second child (Farrah is 3 now) and this time things went better for her physically so she hasn't gotten depressed as she did the first time. We went out to lunch a lot and just generally spoiled outselves. I really enjoyed getting reacquainted with my daughter and we got some very serious visiting done.

Casey, our oldest, who farms with us, has a son Josh (now almost 8!) and a daughter Jennie (3 last January). Their family has been going through some difficult times this last year -- just as all of us have at times -- and we've had a few worries in that quarter. They seem to have a handle on things at the moment so perhaps things are looking up.

Now that it's cooled off in the midwest, we're having an awful heat wave. Yesterday it was 103 here and today is to be 105 with no relief until about next Tuesday. I'm thankful we're not trying to plan anything for Labor Day weekend. I've slowed down so much this last year that I just don't get things done. And when the weather is extremely hot or cold, it takes me ages to get going.

Part of the reason I'm not operating as usual is that we replaced the big double bed in this room (which is either an office doubling as a guestroom or a bedroom doubling as an office) with a sofabed. I used to spread a sheet on the bed and use it for more work space and now I don't have it so I have to stack my piles of papers on the floor and it's taking me some time to get used to it. This winter we plan to build a storage wall in here so we'll have workspace enough for two people during harvest plus room for the typewriter, computer, calculator and paper cutter on the counter. Then we'll have drawers below and shelves above. That SHOULD give us enough storage space so that we'll have everything we need right at our fingertips. I'm not looking forward to being all torn up while this is going on but it should make for a huge improvement so I guess I can stand it.

Also I have a huge backlog of things up in the attic that haven't been worked over in about 13 years. During that time, all three kids have gotten married (leaving things upstairs) and my mother has unloaded masses of stuff that she thought I'd like to have. Now my dad is trying to pull the same thing and I'm getting almost nasty about it. I'm not a great one for domestic type possessions. Mother loved dishes and baskets and that sort of thing -- not me! We HAVE to have so many material things for our pickers' camp that in our home, we'd prefer to just keep to the very basic necessities. I can't stand the constant clutter and during harvest when we don't have time to put anything away, it can drive a person mad!

Anyway, I'm working upstairs every a.m., sorting and straigtening and pitching out this accumulation. I've made quite a bit of progress this past week so it's encouraging. It would be nice if the weather would cool off but maybe I wouldn't want to work up there all day anyway, so it's probably just as well that it's hot!

All of this has rather raised hob with my genealogy and I have a pile of letters to answer that is threatening to fall over on me! All summer I've just added to the pile of folders containing my Grigsby material and it has reached terrifying proportions. If THAT pile ever falls over, it will probably punch a hole in the floor!

We seem to be having an early Fall. I've been picking up filberts for over a week and the apples have started to fall, too. I can't remember this ever happening in August before. Usually it's at least 10 days or 2 weeks into September before things like this happen. We've heard that Iowa seems to be having an early Fall, too, so perhaps it's general. Hope it doesn't indicate a long, hard winter. We're probably about due for one but don't want it!

Thanks again for the pictures. Can I reimburse you? I'd like to. I don't feel that I've done much to help with the Grigsby family research and this would give me an opportunity to do some good. I'm going to send the pictures to Jo Ann Brown, the Genealogy Committee chairman, and let her carry the ball on this. Moses was evidently the brother of Samuel, so would have been an uncle of Demps. Jo Ann has really made great progress on our family documentation. She is insistent upon going into the original records in order to avoid building upon the mistakes made by others and seems to have the rare quality necessary to keep from hurting peoples' feelings. Some are so afraid to admit that they don't descend from the more famous members of a family that they seem unable to maintain an open mind.

There is still a lot of work to be done on the other brothers and sisters of our Samuel and Nathaniel so I think it behooves us all to give Jo Ann whatever assistance we can.

I've got to quit and get lunch or I could probably run on for hours! I didn't get a chance to call Eloise while in Beaverton but maybe soon. More later.

Much love,

Barbara

Dear Shirley,

Thanks again for all the goodies you sent in your last letter! I've wanted to answer that letter for days but this place is suddenly in the throes of Spring and you never know what's going to happen from one day to the next.

We all got up at 4 am every day for about 8 or 9 days until they were able to finish the spraying. It has to be absolutely still and they'd think they could finish it only to run out one or two loads and have the wind come up. It's very frustrating. Then we were trying to clean up the brush (which has to be mowed with a Caterpillar tractor and the big mower) and the firewood (about 40 pickup loads) which had to be stacked up out in the orchard for pickup in the spring. We used to prune in the Fall early enough that we could haul in what wood we'd cut each day and that eliminated a big part of the spring cleanup but this year the pruning didn't get done until late so we had no choice.

Last night was a dilly. Our winter didn't start until Feb. 1st so we rather expected spring to be later but Mother Nature always has to play tricks on us. A week ago it didn't look as if the cherry blossoms would be out for 2 or 3 weeks. Just since Monday, most of them are out to almost full-bloom. We have to have hives of bees stationed around in the orchard to pollinate the blooms so we had to have them rush around and spot the hives during the night. Fortunately our son gets up to help with that job so Davey is spared. It's a pretty scarey job driving around in the orchard at night. Can't be done by day or the bees would all be left behind while their home was being moved! I'll be glad when the bees can be taken out of the orchard again. I don't get along with bees too well even though these we get nowadays are more cosmopolitan than they used to be. Time was when they'd bring in the bees, hive by hive, and the bees never had the same neighbor in the nextdoor hive. Now they have 6 hives on a pallet and those 6 hives are a unit that never gets separated. Makes for easier getting along with them but I still don't trust bees.

In fact, I had a bumble bee wander into the house last night and I had quite a time getting rid of it.

Now to the papers you sent. The Mary Grigsby in Edgar Co., IL, 1850 was 88, born in Maryland, and was living with Vaughts. In the 1860 White Co., IL, census, Mary Grigsby was 96, born in Maryland and living with Kings and Hunsingers. Were these entries for the same woman or was one (Edgar Co.) Charles' widow and one (White Co.) John's widow?

My Jeremiah Harrison married Rebecca Johnston 30 Oct. 1799 in Livingston Co., KY. He was on a tax list in that county which was dated 3/10/180 -- in fact, there were TWO of them in the same county, same date. There was also another Jeremiah Harrison on the same tax list in Woodford Co., dated 8/1800. There was only one William Johnstone of Livingston Co., 3/10/1800 on that list. There was a James Johnson, date 1800, and a John Johnson, dated 3/10/1800, on the same tax list. But it said very specifically on the marriage record that Rebeckah's name was JohnsTon.

Another earlier tax list had a Jeremiah Harrison in Fayette Co. 6/30/1789 and a Jeremiah Harrison in Woodford Co. 5/28/1790.

My memory isn't the best but I seem to recall finding a Jeremiah Harrison in an Alabama census -- probably the 1820 since that's the only one I can remember having access to.

And of course, those in the western part of Virginia. I remember finding at least one Jeremiah Harrison in Chalkley's Annals of Augusta and Rockbridge Counties.

It's really tough when you have to go back to around 1800 just to get started with a family such as the Harrisons. If you can find a family in the 1850 census all the kids are listed and it gives you such an advantage in the possibility of finding other people researching that very line.

That dandy map you sent of the Cherokee country is wonderful! According to that, Livingston Co. -- clear over on the Ohio River -- would have been at the western boundary of the Cherokee Nation and Woodford Co. would have been further to the north.

I'm sending you copies of the 1860 census index material on the Grigsby line. A friend of mine spent the winter in Mesa, AZ, and they have all this stuff available in the LDS Library there. They must have a flock of donors who are simply loaded with money because they have fabulous stuff in that library. I have also included a copy of the 1860 Gibson and Orange Co. extractions from this census index list (except I have the Wapello Co., IA, for Demps Grigsby -- if you want it, let me know and I'll send it to you).

Now to my Fox line. Several months ago I asked for help on my Foxes from an Archive Library in Fonda, NY. They sent me some Abstracts of Wills from Rensselaer Co. that have proven to be very helpful. Then in a Gen. Library in Portland last week I found a Buffalo, NY, obit showing that Oshea G. Fox died 18 Mar. 1857 at age 56y. This connects with the Asher Fox in the Bristol Genealogy Book. Asher Fox was the son of Jeremiah Fox and Eunice Bristol, was born 22 July 1799, died 16 Mar. 1857, and married Theresa Tucker. In the 1850 Rochester, NY (Monroe Co.) census (which you sent me, thankee kindly, Ma'am!) his wife's name was Teresa and also, one of the Wills the lady sent was for Henry Tucker who listed a daughter named "Larissa, wife of Oshia G. Fox". This now gives me proof that Oshia G. Fox was, indeed, the son of Jeremiah and Eunice. What I need now is something to connect my great grandfather, Charles E. Fox (1822-1887), to Oshia G. Fox.

He's GOT to be my gg grandfather. Chas. E. on his Civil War re-enlistment paper gave "Nassau Co., NY" as his birthplace. Nassau Co. on Long Island didn't exist until after the old boy was dead so he must have meant the area in Rensselaer Co. which contained 3 or 4 little communities (named East Nassau, West Nassau, etc.) in the Nassau Township area. Chas. E. named his first son Charles Austin and his second son Oshia G. (born in 1861, the first male child born after O. G.'s death). I simply can't see him applying that name to a poor defenseless child unless it was his own father's name.

The names of O. G. (1850 Rochester, NY, census) Fox's children all adhere strictly to family naming habits. Alexander was the name of one of Henry Tucker's sons, Teresa's brother; Sarah L. was Asher's youngest sister's name; Caroline was the name of one of Teresa's sisters (in the will abstract it was Cordelia Matilda but in the IGI it's Caroline M.); Albert was the name of O. G.'s eldest brother's first son; and Emily S. was the daughter of that same brother.

Now what I need is something to tie Chas. E. to his parents. I'm going to write to a Gen. Soc. or Hist. Soc. in Rochester to ask their advice about finding a possible will or probate record or even a guardian paper of some sort. The daughter Emily was only 3 in 1850 so would have been only 10 when her father died. Albert would have been 16 and probably capable of working. I have no idea where Teresa might have been by 1860. There was an Alexander Fox p. 914 in Arcadia, Wayne Co., NY, in 1860 and a Theressa Fox p 158, in Homer, Cortland Co., NY, 1860. I'm going to have to order out some of these census films but I think I'll let it go until I learn something more definite. We have the 1850 Cortland Co. census in our local LDS Library so perhaps I can check to see which of them were there in 1850 before deciding how much digging to do.

In Sylvester's History of Rensselaer Co., NY, Ethan S. Fox was said to be still living in Chicago. The book was published about 1880. I extracted all Foxes from the 1880 Illinois Soundex so that if I ever run across the enumeration of Ethan S. Fox's family I can check to see if he might have been living there with a son and perhaps could locate someone doing research on that particular line. It's a pretty slim hope, though, so I'm going to put that one off for a while. Ethan S. appeared in the town of Athens, Greene Co., NY, census index from 1830 through 1860 so he didn't move to Illinois until after that.

Since receiving these Abstracts of Wills, I now have Teresa Fox's parents names (Henry Tucker and Mindwell Cook, daughter of "Lam" -- Lamson? -- Cook) as well as a number of other surnames to work on.

Had a reply to a letter I wrote to another Bristol researcher who lives up in Washington and she gave me several additional ancestors of Eunice Bristol's (Samuel Bristol and Esther Sanford, Daniel Bristol and Hester Sperry, and Henry Bristol and Lydia Brown). This ought to keep me busy and off the streets for some time!

You asked a letter or two ago about Silas Willard Grigsby, son of Joel and Fanny Couston Grigsby. Could this have been the son of Toliver and Winny's son Joel? He would have been born ca 1859 so I believe that could have been a possibility. Nina would know more than I, of course, and may already have given you the word on it.

Why on earth is it that you can slog along for months and months without finding anything worth bothering about but the minute you get busy at something else, you suddenly find yourself inundated with new breakthrough data on several lines?!?!

I'm still bogged down in my on-going (forever, I think!) project of extracting the entire 1830 Gibson Co., IN, census (it's finished but for the indexing), and the Grigsby and allied lines from the 1850 and 1860 Gibson and Orange Counties of Indiana. They're all approaching book-length but at least I do have them separated into small programs where I have them stored on computer disks. This helps when I go to add new material as I find it or when I want to run printouts without doing the entire thing. At this point all I can hope for is survival until I get finished!

I've certainly enjoyed your letters and all the help you've given me. I think we must be related because you, too, seem to like to poke around in libraries, working away at some of these puzzles until you have a pretty logical explanation of why certain things were done the way they were. I go to a Gen. Library in Portland (it's a good one even though it's small by comparison with the famous ones) and they have some surprising things there. If you have any problems you're having trouble with, let me know and I'll see if they have anything that might help.

More later but in the meantime, Good Hunting!

Much love,

Barbara

Dear Shirley,

Wow! Have you ever been busy! Thanks so much for all the copies you've been sending.

I have felt that Abigail Grigsby was probably living with a grandson or granddaughter. I wonder if anyone has the generations in between Moses' and Abigail's children and this Bingman/Bingham family she was living with. She almost HAD to be family because she moved with them clear out to Dallas Co., IA! And I'm sure they must have had some Quaker connections. I have a friend here in The Dalles who has been working on Quaker records for sometime now. She's figured out the quickest way to find families so maybe I can get her to help me see what might be there on these people.

In the 1850 Indiana Census Index they had a listing for an "Amay Grigsby" in Marion Co. (page 276 - Indianapolis Center"). Do you suppose that was the same as the Ansey you found? Odd that he was born in PA, isn't it? Perhaps he was related to the OH Grigsbys. I need to write to Jo Ann Brown soon so I'll try to remember to pass this on to her.

That Every Name Index is wonderful! Is that something done by the Indiana Gen. Soc.? I must get busy and do some tabulating of all this data.

I have consistently shied away from doing anything on the Johnston/Johnson line. One thing I HAVE noticed, though, is that whoever was writing down the data at the time invariably spelled all such names one way or the other. They were all either Johnstons or all Johnsons on that particular census of whatever record was being done. This is another of those families I need to do a lot of work on in KY. That's where Rebeckah Johnston and Jeremiah Harrison were married.

Which History of Gibson Co. was the Jeremiah Harrison reference? I don't believe it was Stormont's. Was it Tartt's? I've never seen that book. Or is there a new one? she asked hopefully.

I found a lot of these people in Chalkley's "Annals of Augusta Co., VA" -- Harrisons, McClures, Johnstons, as well as all the other families I'm researching. My Armstrongs, Montgomerys, Galbraiths, Calhouns, Ewings, McKameys, Gallahers, Gillespies, Parks, Lyles, Gillilands, ad infinitum, were all there at one time or another. I think it must have been a main stopping place for everyone heading south out of PA on their way to any of the southern states. Most of mine wound up in Tenn., went through KY to IN and on into Iowa. A few went from TN into ARK and on to MO and then to Oregon. Funny things, migration trails!

My Creightons were johnny-come-latelys, not coming to America until about 1815-1820 or so. They settled in PA (around Pittsburgh) at first, then moved on into OH. From there my great great grandfather and great grandfather went by ship to Panama, crossed the Isthmus by mule, and caught another ship to California. They weren't terribly impressed by what went on in the gold country (it was my grandfather who really caught gold fever later) and when they heard about the fertile land up here in Oregon they came up on horseback and settled near Portland.

James had been a riverboat captain (probably on the Ohio River) but Sam (my great grandfather) worked in a nursery for the man who had brought the first fruit trees out from Iowa in 1847. In 1863 he came to The Dalles and started one of the first 3 cherry orchards here (it's still in the family, a "Pioneer Farm"). The varieties of cherries we grow today are some that were developed in that nursery while my great grandfather was working there. The Royal Anne is a light red cherry named for the boss' wife and is the mainstay of our orchard. The Bing is a large, firm black cherry that is the best fresh market cherry we sell. It was named for the Chinese cook. And the Lambert, another black cherry was named for a man who helped to develop it.

I've been catching up on letters today and have written a couple to Nichols hunters. And a letter came today asking me about Thurza Stapleton, Demps Grigsby's second wife. It seems she is a descendant of Travis Stapleton, a brother of Thurza's. How 'bout that?!

In Margaret Water's books there are some entries for Harrison, Johnstons, Grigsbys, etc. I actually found this stuff without having to search for hours! What on earth is the world coming to?! I'll list some of them:

These are most of the ones that might be of interest on Grigsby lines. The reason I put in the Devins is because there was a Devin who witnessed Jeremiah Harrison's will in 1819/20. There were Grigsbys who married into the Yeager, Lucas and Cornwall/Cornwell families. And the Lemaster was a connection of some of Toliver Grigsby's children, I think.

Jeremiah Harrison died in 1819 and his will was witnessed by a Devin (Alexander, I believe, and Benjamin May. Then late in 1820 a Rebecca Harrison married a Benjamin May. This may have been a daughter of Jeremiah's (he named only his daughter Elizabeth by name in his will, bless his little pointed head!) or it might have been his widow. I lean toward the widow, since Benjamin was probably a friend of Jeremiah's.

Just noticed one of your questions. We don't keep the bees all year around -- we wouldn't keep me if we did! We rent the hives just for the time that the blossoms are out. This year they were only in the orchard a week! Usually it's two weeks but the weather rushed things.

I've noticed that Azza Harrison before, mostly in those Indiana Land Records, I guess. He certainly could have been a son of Jeremiah's.

I'm beginning to think that everyone is related to everyone else! Whenever you get to working diligently in an area you start finding all sorts of related lines. It gets pretty frustrating trying to link them up right, too.

I have a lot of other Harrison material but it's in such a disorganized mess at the moment I won't even attempt to look anything up for you. What I need is a week without the phone ringing!

I'm going to the Portland Genealogical Forum on Monday and will ask about Washington State Marriage Records and Indexes. I rather doubt if they have anything after 1920 but you never know until you check. A friend and I went down last Monday and had the place almost to ourselves. The freeway was uncrowded, the downtown traffic in Portland was light and we could hardly believe our luck. We'll probably run into a buzz saw this Monday but we have to try it!

I checked out the 1880 IL Soundex for Foxes and copied them all. Now I need to find Ethan Fox in the Green Co., NY, census for 1850 to see if any of his children were at home. Then I could check the Soundex data I copied against it to see if he might have been living with one of his kids in IL. It's a long shot and maybe I'd do better to go for a will or some sort of land deal in Rochester. Perhaps I'll think it over until after the harvest crunch is past. That ought to give inspiration a chance to strike!

Tomorrow looks to be a very busy day. I have 2 bank statements to reconcile, a washing to do, and a whole bunch of items to dig out in preparation for our trip to the Forum on Monday. Davey is so busy now that there's no chance of our going anywhere just for fun so it'll give me a chance to catch up a bit, maybe. One of these days I've got to make curtains for both of our enclosed porches.

This time I'm going to use pastel striped sheets -- they should be more durable than any other kind of material so the sun shouldn't rot them quite as soon as it did the others. Also need to do some sewing for myself. I get so disgusted when I spend $20 on a plain old blouse and before I even wear it away from home the first time the buttons fall off or a seam rips open. I can do better than that in my slapdash fashion! And I make pockets!

Guess I'd better get this ready to mail at the first opportunity. We'll probably need milk tomorrow so will have to dash to town. More later.

Much love,

Barbara

Dear Shirley,

Things here, too, are all at sixes and sevens. Harvest began last Friday and this is our seventh day. We've had a couple of rains but only the last one did any amount of damage. What that will amount to, of course, will not be known until all the cherries are picked, delivered and paid for. So why worry?

So sorry Maurice is having so many problems. It always seems as if things just have to pile up on people. Surely hope that things will start looking up for you all.

Last time I was at the Forum Library in Portland I hunted up the Washington section but didn't do any good. They have a lot of stuff but I'm not familiar enough with the counties there to know which are adjacent to one another. I think you'd do much better to find an expert to help you so am giving you the address of the Yakima Valley Gen. Soc., P O Box 445, Yakima, WA 98907. I wrote them a couple of years ago and got a very cooperative answer back. I didn't follow up on it because I no longer needed the information I was after but I'm sure they would be of more help to you than I would.

The last day I worked in the LDS Library here before I had to quit for harvest, I ran across a copy of "Kentucky Ancestors" (1989 KY Ancestors V24-3) which had some Grigsbys in it. Whenever I get out of here again, I plan to get copies run to send to you but in the meantime I'll just give you a bit of a rundown on some of the names I found among the 1810-1826 Bourbon Co., KY, abstracts of deeds. Craven Peyton, Sr., various Duncans, Lewis Corbin, and Thos. Wright, among many others. I've read so many records from this area, with interrelated surnames, that I'm not sure which names go with Grigsbys and which with my Armstrong or McKamey or other lines!

This issue also included some records on the Samuel and John Duncan families. Here I found a R(edmond) G(rigsby) Foster born May 15 1819 (RGF's birth is in a different handwriting, and a third person expanded his initials). Mary Jane Foster, a dau of John and Dorcas Grigsby Foster born Nov. 16 1815, died June 1862, the rest illegible.

Charles and Mahala Duncan had a dau Dorcas Grigsby Duncan born April 18 1829, died Dec. 18; son Redmon G. Duncan born Aug 27 1842; another mention of Dorcas Grigsby Duncan born Apr 1829, died Dec 18th at Savannah, MO, of consumption 1865.

They said at the end of the data they printed that they would be continuing this article in the Spring 1989 issue, Vol. 24, #41.

If I can ever run away from home long enough, I'll get this material Xeroxed and send it to you. There might be other names in it that you might notice.

The pages I'm enclosing are from last October's issue of "Strange Branches & Twigs", the Strange family newsletter. There were 3 Strange sisters who married 3 Grigsbys (we thing they were brothers) so we've been picking up on every Strange mention we come across. I was having some difficulty with my printer when I ran these but I think you can make out what it says. You'll notice that there's mention of a Payton Cornwell in the 1830 Indiana Census, Orange Co. and there was a Bourbon Co., KY, deed abstract dated 1815 in the name of Payton Craven, Sr. Well, I may as well copy that one here:

Page 35 May 14, 1815 Craven Peyton, Sr.'s Heirs: Francis Peyton, Jonah Tomson, Margaret Tomson, West Alrick, Ann Alrick, Thomas West Peyton, all heirs of Craven Peyton, Sr.; with the hair of Craven Peyton, Jr., who is Anne Peyton; also Susanna Peyton, heir of Valentine Peyton, who was an heir of Craven Peyton, Sr.; and James Bristow, claiming in the right of William Peyton, an heir of Craven Peyton, Jr.

The rest will follow in time.

I'm still trying to get used to not working out in the orchard from 6 am to 6 pm and then putting in several more hours in the office in the evening. But for some strange reason, I'm just as busy as ever and I'm beginning to wonder who did all these things I'm doing because everyone else is too busy to take care of them.

Am still trying to get my gen. data sorted and stored in large binders so I'll know where to find things when I want them. So far it hasn't worked as I'd hoped and now I realize that I'll need an index for each binder. Methinks this is going to be an ongoing project. Sort of like the end of the rainbow -- always just beyond my grasp! It HAS helped me already, though. I'm keeping all data for a certain state in a specific binder instead of having a copy in one family file and a duplicate in another. I tossed out a 4 inch pile of duplicates when I went through the family files. Sure makes a difference in the file cabinet!

While I was working on Davey's Pink line in Franklin Co, IA, I ran across a family of Craightons there. They had come from OH -- which is where mine lived before coming to Calif. and Oregon -- so they might be related. There were two separate families of Creightons in Ohio, though. Ours had come into PA (settled in the Pittsburgh area), then moved on to OH. Don't know if they were related to the other Ohio Creightons. There was a Captain John Creighton who was the pilot of one of the Goodyear blimps a couple of years ago -- probably still is.

Had a query from a Creighton hunter who had an Elder connection and another whose Creightons had come to America through Louisiana. She claims they all came from the Crichtons who had originally been connected with thecastle used as locale in Scott's "Ivanhoe". I don't know how much of this to believe, but it makes for interesting speculation.

It's funny how you find things. While looking for someone else in Davis Co., IA, I tripped over my great great grandfather (James) Creighton's brother David who later wound up in California. I often wonder how well brothers in such cases kept in touch with one another. My great great grandfather took his son (my great grandfather Sam) to Calif. but they lasted quick and came on up here to Oregon to farm.

I don't know how many times I've gone to a library, planning to look for a specific person only to be unable to find them -- and then trip over something totally unexpected on someone else! That happens to me all the time. I guess it's a good thing it happens or I'd have given up long ago! Ethan S. Fox WAS listed in the 1840, 1850 and 1860 Greene Co., NY census index, living in the town of Athens, which is right on the Hudson River. I want to write to a library there and ask if they have the census itself in typescript. That's so much easier and less expensive than ordering the film and reading the whole thing.

Well, I must get back to the salt mines. Speaking of which, isn't all this news about China sickening? I keep asking myself where on earth the media has been all this time, that they are so surprised when a Communist acts the way Communists always act! Davey thinks the only reason the government waited as long as they did before clamping down on the students was so they could get their own sons and daughters out of the square to safety before the axe fell. Makes sense to me. But enough of that.

Thanks again for all the goodies you've sent me. You'll be hearing from me again -- soon, I hope.

Much love,

Barbara

We had our family get-together on October 8th which is the weekend Canada sets for their Thanksgiving. Monday is their day off so we have our dinner on Sunday and the kids have that day to drive home. This was the first time in about 3 or 4 years that we had all 3 of our kids and all 5 grandchildren together at the same time. What a madhouse! But such fun! We took the turkey down to Beaverton to daughter Joan's house and cooked it there. Having it there saved daughter Dorothy's family the 100 miles from Portland to The Dalles and another 100 miles back. 275 miles (one way) is far enough to have to drive without adding on another 100 miles.

I just located a note I made about your Manthey project. I couldn't find anything in the Washington section of the Forum library but next time I'm there, I'll see if I can locate someone who is used to working in Washington. It's possible that the library in Hoquiam could find you something or someone to help you. I've used the July-Aug. issue of "The Gen. Helper" a lot to find genealogical societies or libraries in areas where I need data. I also have a cousin in Everett (that's further north) who might have some ideas. She's also a non-member librarian in a local LDS library.

Must stop for now and go throw some firewood around. Seems to be that time of year. Will try to get back to you sooner next time -- and especially if I can find anything for you in the Wash. records.

Much love,

Barbara

Dear Shirley,

Sorry I've been such a slow poke about answering your very welcome letter. Things have been hectic around here, to say the least.

The house has been in a mess since the start of the washroom remodel project the end of July. You can hardly navigate between rooms in some quarters. I wish I could say that the project is finished but we still have to paint the inside of one cupboard, varnish the cabinet doors and install door and drawer handles. We DID get started putting things away the other day so perhaps that's daylight I see at the end of the tunnel.

I was just about to run into the October round of payroll tax reports when we got dragged into our son's divorce case as Principals to the Proceedings. Now you actually know someone who has been named as Co-Respondent in a divorce case! Fun, huh?

All this amounted to was a fishing expedition on the part of the attorney for the other side. I don't think much of a legal system that allows a non-owner to claim that the owner's interest in their own property ought to be voided but that's what they did. I think they were trying to stampede us into furnishing all sorts of documents but we don't stampede too readily and this ploy is not going to do Jody's case any good. Fortunately, they can't touch any of the documents they wanted so desperately -- our income tax returns, our wills, etc. I just hope we can make Jody cover the legal fees we've been forced to pay.

We are hopeful that the judge will be impressed by the witnesses who are willing to testify that Casey is the better parent and should have full custody. You never know, though.

We're planning to retire for sure when Davey hits 65 in December. I don't know what that will mean, though. We don't have anyone to take my place so I'm afraid things will continue about the way they've always been. Gr-r-r-r! Davey doesn't want to quit completely, nor do I, but it would be nice to have SOME help. We'll see how it goes.

Our weather continues dry and mild. It's been so dry that the trees look odd. Not in the orchards which are irrigated, but in the hills they look pretty sick. We've been noticing that you're having snow. For heaven's sake, why?!?!?

We have no idea when this divorce case will be settled so I'm very much afraid a December trip to the Salt Lake City library will have to suffer another postponement. Drat!

I can manage to survive by visiting the Portland Gen. Forum library from time to time. They are adding about 100 items (books, periodicals, etc.) per month so it's a growing concern. They have newsletters from all states and I still need to go through many of those. They're very time-consuming, though, so it's easy for me to get distracted other things. So far I haven't found much Grigsby lore but on the other hand I haven't checked Virginia lately. Last year I found a reference to a Wm. Dempsey in Virginia in the 1700's. He lived near a John Grigsby so I'm sure he was a friend (or perhaps was related by marriage) and this is probably where my Dempsey got his name.

Maurice's checkup will probably be over by just about the time this letter reaches you. Surely hope the word will be positive for you.

A cousin in Arkansas sent me a recent obituary from Walnut Ridge, AR, for a Lita Irene Grigsby, 76, widow of Jess Grigsby. She had come from Rockford, IL. I'll have to write Irene Bowie (nee Grigsby and descendant of John Harrison "Harry" Grigsby, who was a son of Demps Grigsby) and find out who she and Jess Grigsby were.

Jo Ann Brown is doing a good job of keeping our interest stirred up, isn't she? I don't see how she can keep the different lines straight -- I have trouble with just mine!

I've been able to locate some new blood in my search for my Fox-Bristol-Tucker-Cook lines. A lady in VA has given me some great leads on the Cooks, a few months ago I found a Bristol Family Assn. still going strong in Conn. and planning to put out a supplement to their family genealogies soon, and the LDS library's Family Registry (an index of people who are hunting for specific ancestors which is very helpful) has provided me with several others who are looking for the same lines as I am.

When I was still ACTIVELY expecting to go to SLC, I began collecting all the book, film and fiche numbers I might need in order to save myself a lot of time once in the SLC library. Incidentally, I'm still working on that project. I have so many surnames to track down, I may never finish picking up all the possibilities from the library catalog. I have found many fiche that are available. They're very handy to order out because once in the local library they're there to stay. Often these family fiche are copies of surname organizations' newsletters and if they aren't too outdated, it's a way to locate family groups that are still active.

I keep losing my place in my research because of everything that's going on around here. Normally, there's just one thing at a time interfering but this year it's been the farm accounts AND the washroom AND the divorce/custody mess. Not only that, but I had my 62nd birthday on the first of October and, would you believe it, I've never received so many birthday cards in my life before! No kidding! I'm thinking of filing a class-action suit for Senior Abuse!

Dear Shirley,

February seems to be marching right along. Have been enjoying your letters but feel guilty that I haven't been able to answer them yet. It isn't just that I've had all these payroll tax reports to do (there were actually 26! of them instead of 17!) and had to collect a mess of papers to take to our CPA so he can get our income tax returns ready in time. Everytime I turn around, there's something new that has to be done. Some retirement, she said bitterly!

Before I forget it, thanks for the pictures of you and your family. They're great. Good-looking family you've got there! Is that your very own lake? Must be neat. If we had a lake on our land , all the water would run out, we have so many hills.

The divorce cloud still hangs heavy over our heads but at least the trial date is set for March 13th. All I hope is that it doesn't get postponed again. Jody is trying to convince Casey that she's changed (through God's intervention but I'm very skeptical as she pulled this ploy once last summer and then couldn't keep up the pretence) but he quickly reminded her that if she wants to build a little credibility and confidence, she'd better get busy and call off her lawyer. That babe (the lawyer) has decided to go after a percentage of the cherry income off OUR orchard -- which we NEVER rented to Casey and Jody and which, having been in our possession longer (Davey is the BEST orchardist in the area, bar none!), just naturally is a better producer. All I hope is that the judge is fair-minded and doesn't fall for Jody's little-girl-picked-upon act.

We've been having such mild weather I couldn't believe it. And it's been crazy. Portland, usually so mild they get only a skiff of occasional snow up on the higher hills, has been having snow and cold quite a bit this year -- and we haven't. It caught up with us last night, though, and we have a half an inch of snow. It'll probably melt off in a couple of hours. It looks as if the sun will shine for at least a while. The weather people are having mixed notions about what it's supposed to do tonight. Some say snow, others say rain. Guess we'll wait and see and take what we get. It'll probably be snow as I'm due to work my shift at the LDS Library tomorrow afternoon.

We had dinner with my sister and her husband one evening last week. Her name is Shirley, by the way. Anyway, we spent about 3 hours just yakking away. Mostly we complained about our 92-year-old father. He's in remarkably good health for a man his age. Yet he seems to feel that he ought to still be in the same shape he was at age 25!

Since Mother died 3 years ago, he's been a real pill! He won't go to the excellent local Senior Center -- where he'd know a great many people he could visit with -- but wants my sister or myself or my son (as we live here) to spend all our spare time with him. He doesn't need to have someone doing things for him all the time and we're all busy but he gets ideas and then when we tell it like it is, he gets his feelings hurt. When he was younger, he went hunting and fishing whenever he felt like it, letting Mother and the two of us girls fend for ourselves. We learned the hard way (mostly from him and his actions) that loneliness is something that everyone has to cope with in their own way.

He realizes that he naps during the day when he shouldn't but can't seem to overcome this habit. Then he can't sleep at night and pretty soon he has himself all messed up. Well, every so often -- particularly in the winter when it's dark so much of the day -- he gets completely disoriented and starts imagining things. So far we've have 4 such incidents in the last couple of years -- that we know of, anyway. One time he was convinced that our Casey had been kidnapped and it was all we could do to keep him from calling the FBI. Casey was on a trip to Calif. for a vacation he badly needed -- mostly to get away from his wife and his grandfather who were both driving him up the wall. Just lately my dad told Casey (we were away for the day) he'd called the State Police and my nephew in Portland because my sister and her husband had disappeared. They hadn't but he surely shook Casey up over his paranoia. So far he hasn't actually called the FBI or the State Police but I'm sure that's in the cards!

I had begun to lose a little weight by riding my exercise bike but when all that paperwork landed on me I lost all my enthuse. Bike riding is so dull anyway and I was getting so far behind on things, it was impossible to dredge up enough energy to get in my usual 20 miles a day. Now that I'm more or less caught up, I can't seem to get back into the swing of things. Maybe tomorrow, I keep telling myself.

I'm glad we agree about the media, etc. When they aren't out-and-out liars, they misrepresent things so! It's always annoyed me that they never want to give a person a chance to find out ALL the facts before commenting on a situation. Of course, that's how they get someone to make stupid remarks that can be thrown back in their face later. Another thing that worries me is how much influence they have over sentences handed down to people. I'm thinking of Jim and Tammy Bakker (sp?). So they allegedly mishandled funds (and who knows who actually did it and what was really done?). He gets 45 years while murderers serve maybe 5 to 7 years and child abusers seem to be able to get off scot-free after tying up the courts for years and costing millions -- in spite of being identified by the poor kids who weren't old enough to have thought up the things they described on their own. This world is surely in a mess!

You asked about the name The Dalles. I don't think anyone's really sure but the prevailing opinion is that it's from a French word meaning falls or rapids and referred to the place in the Columbia River near here (Indian village of Celilo -- pronounced Seh-lie-low) where there used to be some falls. That's about 10 miles east of here where the Indians used to fish for salmon using dipnets. It was quite picturesque and a popular tourist attraction. Sadly, the dams built on the river back in the '50's raised the water so there are no longer any falls there.

About a year ago I was fortunate enough to have our TV on early one Sunday a.m. when a prominent retired orthopedic surgeon (he'd removed a number of bone chips from Davey's elbow 38+ years ago!) who is a history buff was on a program about the Celilo Indians and their old way of fishing. I was able to tape it and it is one of my most treasured tapes.

When your second letter came, I dug back into Nina Bowen's file and found that I wrote the following to her (after tabulating Jos. King, Wesley Hunsinger and Mary Grigsby as they appeared in the 1860 White Co., IN, census):

"There were Kings in the 1850 Gibson Co., IN, census. I didn't extract the given names or ages or place of birth because I had no idea at the time that they might be related. Now I'll have to do that as soon as possible! This Mary is about the same age as "Old John" of Gibson Co. I wonder if this could be John's widow? She is obviously living in 1860 with a grandchild. Shirley [you, that is!] seemed to think that there had been Hunsingers in Muhlenburg Co., KY, too. The MD place of birth rather threw me but lots of people drifted southwest from MD into VA and the Carolinas and on into KY. I surely wish we had some clue as to who Demps' mother was."

The next time Nina wrote me after this, she said she was almost positive that Barbara Belcher told her once that John's widow was living in Edgar Co., IL., but that the only name Nina found was a Sarah Owens, but Barbara did tell her that John's wife was born in Maryland and that she was 88 years old at the time (of the census, I assume).

What we really need is names of Grigsby kids and their marriage records. If I can get in to the library this afternoon, maybe I'll take a crack at the Salt Lake City library catalog and see what's available in Gibson Co. as well as White Co., IL. We still have the 1850 and 1860 Gibson Co., IN, census films here so perhaps I'll dip into those and see what I can find on the Kings, Hunsingers and Vaughts. It's been so long since I've done anything in that area, I'll probably have to start from scratch. Perhaps, too, I ought to check out the LDS Family Registry. That's people who are looking for specific ancestors. I've had some pretty good luck locating others who are working the same side of the street as I am.

Now this Mary Gears is throwing me for a loss because she seems to have definitely been married to a Charles Grigsby. This is probably one of the Grigsbys from KY (Charles was very popular with whatever family line that was) and Demps' mother probably died sometime after 1840 (when both his parents, John and wife, appeared in the Gibson Co.

census) and was buried right there. Actually, John's wife was probably an Elizabeth as their oldest known daughter was named Betsy. It suddenly occurred to me that if Mary Grigsby were in White Co., IL, in the 1860 census, she would not have been in Edgar Co. There was a Mary Grigsby in Henderson Co., IL, in 1860. I don't have the 1850 census index handy but that's another item to check out at the library. Maybe theses were two different ladies.

I had been working on other lines for so long that I was unable to remember a thing about the Grigsby data and had to quickly run through a couple of files of material. One interesting thing I ran across was in the Orange Co., IN, 1850 and 1860 census. Wm. Grigsby, was 58 and 68, and born in SC in both those censuses. His wife Ann was 55 and 63, born in "Meraland" (1850) and MD (1860). There was also a Mary A. Grigsby in the 1860 census index but she was evidently at the top of a page because she was only 6 years old. It's such a shame there aren't better SC records so we could check out our Grigsbys. They probably drifted south from VA into SC before heading up into KY, etc.

It's been about 2 years ago since I was working in these census films. When I got busy with the farm books, I never got back to it. I had run into so many related surnames that it was a beastly chore to figure out who I needed to extract and who I could safely ignore. The first time I went through, I extracted all surnames. Then I went through and picked out the ones that seemed to be related. By this time it was all getting very complicated and if I didn't work on that project exclusively, I was soon lost.

Guess I've done all the damage I can do until I get in to look at those films again. I don't think I can get there today. This is one of "those days" when I have to stay within earshot of the phone. We have a call coming through either today or tomorrow from Mississippi and I get to monitor it. How nice! It's hard to get household things done when you can't get away from the phone. I can't hear it when I go out to do the washing, even though I'm only there for a few minutes at a time, or when I go down to stoke up the furnace.

I thought the call had come but it was just our accountant reminding me about a couple of items we need to check out for him. I'll be glad to give that to Davey to handle. I figure it's good for him to get in on some of this stuff. I do so much of it that often I don't think I have the right mental equipment to cope with depreciation or land values, etc. I prefer to stick to solid items like how much income we had and how much we spent. Other mental gymnastics aren't my bag.

Egad! It's time for lunch already -- and I had visions of writing four letters this a.m. instead of one. Bah! I think what I need to do is rip the phone out by its roots!

Hope things are going well for you these days. Will let you know if I find anything startling or whatever.

Much love,

P.S. After writing all this I dug out the Iowa + Illinois census index sheets I've had for years (1850). All there is in Iowa, of course, is Demps' family, plus a "Wm. Grigsly" of Lee Co. Ill. has many, various spellings & I think I'd better get busy + send for copies of those census pages. (SLC library will run copies of the page where you know someone was enumerated for only 25¢ a sheet. Beats $3.00 to rent the film for 3 weeks, to say nothing of the time you spend reading the film!)

In the 1850 census index they have a Mary Grigsby in Edgar Co. p. 154 19th Dist + another Mary in Sangamon Co. p 271 No Township listed. There are also some "Grigby" & "Grigsby" listings I'll send for too. Will try to get this order off before the week is out. They usually get one of these orders back in about 2 weeks. Will let you know if I find out anything worthwhile.

I hope to get to our local LDS library this afternoon — they're threatening us with snow this a.m. so will have to see if it's safe for me to venture out.

Dear Shirley,

Let's hope third time's the charm because I've started this letter to you twice before and got so badly interrupted (and so often) that I finally lost all hope of being able to finish it. You sound as if you have the same problem.

Love your letters! They're not only purty but interesting and informative. Thanks for all the goodies you've sent me! Won't ever be able to get even with you, but that won't keep me from trying.

The Mary Grigsby you found in the 1860 White Co., IL. census MUST be related to those who were in Gibson Co., IN. I found numerous Kings in the 1850 Gibson Co. Census and plan to follow up on this to see how long they had been there (from the Census Indexes) and if they lived near any other Grigsbys. Also will do the same with Hunsingers.

Mary was born about 1764 which is just about the same time as "Old" John Grigsby of Gibson Co. was born (he was born in 1756 in VA, though, not MD). I'm enclosing a copy of the paper I prepared last Spring on "Old" John when I was trying to establish him as the probable father of my gg grandfather Demps Grigsby. I sent copies to everyone I could think of who might also be working on this line, including Nina Bowen and Jo Ann Brown. Nina was impressed by my detective work on the various Bailey Grigsbys but Jo Ann was just about to take some time off for the summer so said she would comment on it later. She never did because when they held some Regional Grigsby Family Society Meeting, someone decided that he had our line all done. That's been several months ago now and the promised proof he was going to send out has never showed up. Just between you and me and the gate post, I don't think there IS any such proof but nope I'm wrong. It seems to me that if such proof really existed that some of the rest of us would also have found it. Well, time will tell.

After your letter came, I dug out all the Family Group Sheets which Nina Bowen had sent me and punched them into my genealogy computer program. I also did the same with yours and have printed up a bunch of Family Group Sheets from that data. I'll send copies of them to you.

I'm going to send copies to Nina also, including the census data you sent. She probably already has it but there's always the chance that some material can fall through the cracks (as they're so fond of saying about all sorts of non-conformist types these days).

In Stormont's "History of Gibson Co." (publ. 1914) there was some data about Francis Marion Grigsby. He was the son of George and easy for him to have been overlooked when the census taker asked about the children in the household.

There's also a possibility that Robert could have been living with some relative in a nearby county and working as a farm hand. I'll have to keep my eyes open for this as I continue searching for Grigsbys.

Just found the 1840 Gibson Co. census showing in George Grigsby's household a male and a female between 20 and 30 and a male under 5.

These Family Group Sheets were generated by my "Family Roots" program. A friend of mine has really investigated computers and programs for genealogy and she has concluded that this is really the best genealogy program around. It's available for about any kind of computer there is. I have a Commodore 64 (for reasons I'll explain in a bit) and I know that it's available for Apple, Tandy and IBM-compatible equipment. It's a bit expensive (a friend gave me his) but really does the job. My friend Shirley has checked out the Q and A program as well as the LDS Program and she prefers the "Family Roots" because you can do so much with it.

I'm perfectly content with my Commodore 64. At the time I first started checking into computers, we were just emerging from a period of 6 years when we hadn't made expenses. That was no time to be buying expensive items and the downtown merchants were quoting $1500 and $2500 without printers at that time, not realizing that we do not go into debt unless we have to. By the time I finished my MicroComputer Applications Course at our local community college, my son had offered me the use of this computer. They didn't want it around because they were afraid the kids would ruin it before they were old enough to be able to use it properly. I rigged it up with a disk drive, monitor, and printer and used it that first harvest (1985 I think). The next year I picked up on specials here and there and now have a backup for each piece of equipment and still have less than $1200 invested. The reason I opted for a backup system rather than a more expensive layout is that during harvest, there's no time to take sick computer components to a doctor for repairs.

I asked for advice from a friend who is a stock broker and who has had a lot of computer experience and his advice was simply to choose a brand that is well-known. In other words, if there are a lot of your kind of computers around, there will always be someone who produces components and software for them.

Many people downgrade Commodore, saying it's fine for games but that's about all. However, I use ours for our farm accounting and tax work and have no kick on any of it. I have good software now which really speeds up my bookkeeping a lot. If I can ever figure out how to make the new Database program I bought last summer work, it should cut my daily payroll record work during harvest by about half. That wouldn't hurt my feelings a bit. I have contacted some people about it and hope they'll agree to write me a set of

Speculations on "Old John" Griqsby of Gibson Co., IN

First of all, on one of the first Griqsby Family Group Sheets I ever saw (made up by the fabulous Mary Griqsby of Pueblo, CO) there was a John Griqsby b Stafford Co., VA, 1756 who was the son of Moses Griqsby (1712 or 1718-c1780) and his second wife, Mary Matheny. On this Group Sheet there was only one other child, Moses II (1763-16 Jun 1838) who married Abigail Fritter.

There were only three other pieces of relevant information on the Group Sheet. First, Moses was the son of John II and Jane Redmond. Second, in Feb. 1838 he had his Revolutionary War Pension address changed to Gibson Co., IN, from Caswell Co., NC, and the reason he gave was to live with his family. Third, he died not long after this in 1838 and Abigail applied for a pension and died after 1855 Dallas Co., Iowa.

Among some marriages in Pittsylvania Co., VA, there were 4 daughters and a son of Moses whose certificates were signed by Moses. In the cases of Nancy who married Thomas Corbin in 1806, Mary "Polly" who married Redman Adams in 1807, Elizabeth who married George Terry in 1811, and William Barksdale who married Polly Corbin in 1817, Moses was signed as father. When Francis married Reuben Fritter in 1815 Moses signed the certificate but no relationship was stated. It is interesting to note that Caswell Co., NC, adjoins Pittsylvania Co., VA.

Barbara Belcher says that "a John Griqsby and a Samuel Griqsby lived in Fauquier Co., VA for a while, moved to South Carolina together and on to Kentucky (Muhlenberg Co) and then to Gibson Co., Indiana (across the river from Henderson Co). These two are probably both sons of Moses Griqsby Sr. and 2nd wife Mary Matheny. Their children also get confused with the children of Taliaferro and Nimrod. Evidently all close friends as well as cousins."

They have now been tracked from Stafford, Fauquier and Pittsylvania Counties, VA, to somewhere in South Carolina, then to Muhlenberg Co., KY, and about 1815 moving from there to Indiana.

On the original Family Group Sheet for Moses I, there were only 3 sons listed: Henry (by first wife Katherine Branson), John and Moses II. With records being so sparse and families being on the move, it's more than probable that there were other children, almost surely the Samuel of Gibson Co., to say nothing of daughters.

Moses II evidently settled first in Pittsylvania Co., VA, and later moved to Caswell Co., NC.--perhaps to live closer to some of his children.

Samuel has been pretty well traced from VA to South Carolina where* it is thought he married Franky Cornwell and had a family. She evidently died and he married Elizabeth Strange in KY and had another family.

* Samuel m. Franky Cornwell 4 Sep. 1786 Fauquier Co, VA.

John up to this point has rather defied detection. His father and grandfather (John and John Junr.) were listed among the Rent Rolls in 1723 but only a Reuben and two Williams showed up on Rent Rolls later, in 1768.

In Fothergill & Nauqle's book on the 1782-87 Virginia Census, I found in Fauquier Co., Ann .. poll (I assume they didn't count women) with 13 slaves; Benjamin 1, no slaves; Betsey 1, 12 slaves; James 1, 22 slaves; John 1, 10 slaves; John, Jr. 1, no slaves; Wm. 1, no slaves.

I have nothing that would indicate who is which among all these. The John, Jr. sounds like a possibility because of his age but this would take more research. If born in 1756, in the time span of 1782-1787 he would have been between 26 and 31 and his sons would not have been old enough to be counted as "polls". There was also a Samuel listed in the Rent Rolls in 1770 in Fauquier Co.

Here are a few marriage records from Fauquier Co.:

Susannah m. Wm. Stewart 25 Mar 1770
Eliz. m. Jos. Obanon 2 Sep 1782
Benj. m. Eliz. Duncan 23 Dec 1786
Susannah m. Wm. Hancock 27 Oct 1788
Nancy m. Saml. J. Shackleford 2 Nov 1796
Eliz. m. Elias O'Bannon 24 Jul 1799
Wm. m. Eliz. Triplett 22 May 1826
Wm. m. Sarah Lewis 13 Jul 1829

And here are the census index listings for Fauquier Co.:

Just found some other census index data. A Wm. Grigsby married Rachel Farlier 24 Aug. 1799 in Stokes Co., NC, and in 1830 both Barksdale and Moses Grigsby were listed on page 245 of the Stokes Co.; NC, census. Rockingham Co. is the only county between Caswell and Stokes so they are very close together. The way these people traveled, this would be no distance at all!

Back to the Census Index. John was listed in the 1810 Muhlenberg

Co., KY, census as 31201-11101-00. This would work out as follows:

1 male b 1756
2 " b 1784-1794
1 " b 1794-1800
3 " b 1800-1810
1 female b before 1765
1 " b 1784-1794
1 " b 1794-1800
1 " b 1800-1810

By 1820 John had moved to Gibson Co., IN and was listed in the census there as 110011-11001-02 (2 in agriculture):

1 male b 1756 (over 45)
1 male b 1775-1794 (26-45)
1 male b 1794-1804 (16-26)
1 male b 1804-1810 (10-16)
1 male b 1810-1820 (under 10)
1 female b before 1775 (over 45)
1 female b 1804-1810 (10-16)
1 female b 1810-1820 (under 10)

1830 John's household was like this: 0001100001-000100001 which would work out like this:

1 male b 1756 (74) (70-80)
1 male b 1800-1810 (20-30)
1 male b 1810-1815 (15-20)
1 female b 1760-1770 (60-70)
1 female b 1810-1815 (15-20)

By 1840 there were just the 2 in the household, he in the 70-80 bracket and she in the 60-70. This would be:

1 male b 1756 (1760-1770)
1 female b (1770-1780)

All of these census tabulations, while very vague, are still close enough to indicate that "Old John" of Gibson Co., IN, was probably the son of Moses and Mary Matheny.

Returning to the 1810 census tabulations, Demps who was born in 1799 would be the one born 1794-1800. He had 2 older brothers (if not more as John was 54 years old in 1810 so COULD have 30-year-old sons) living at home as well as 3 younger ones in addition to the 3 sisters under 10, 10-16 and 16-26.

It has occurred to me that the older brothers could be William of Orange Co., IN, and Toliver. There is much confusion about some "odd" Grigsbys. (No pun intended with the Strange connections)

It has been suggested that Wm. of Orange Co., IN, had a sister Lucy Grigsby (1794-1839) who married Henry Wolfe in Muhlenberg Co., KY, in 1812. From her birth date, she could be the daughter who in 1810 was 16-26. Also, it was thought that Demps could have been her brother since he signed a deed for Henry and Lucy in 1820.

There were 3 other Grigsbys in addition to Lucy who married in Muhlenberg Co., KY:

1806 Samuel m. Sally Davis
(probably son of Taliaferro and Eliz. Keith Grigsby)
1806 Charlotte Grigsby m. John Lucas
(related to the Chas. who lived in Muhlenberg Co. and later Ohio Co.?)
1817 Sara Grigsby m. Wm. Morgan

This last one, Sara, might be the daughter of John who didn't appear in the census as a Grigsby after 1810. That one was 10-16 in 1810 and would have been the right age to marry in 1817.

There was a Wm. Morgan on page 135 (NTL) of the 1820 Muhlenberg Co., KY, Census Index. In 1830 there was a Wm. R. Morgan page 198 (NTL) in Vanderburgh Co., IN. Found only "S. Arah" (Sarah, perhaps?) in Vigo Co., IN, page 180 of Fayette Tp. in the 1850 Census Index.

In the Accelerated Index System there were a number of Wm. Morgans in southwest IN in 1850:

p. 319 Robinson Tp. of Posey Co.,
p. 295 Gill Tp. of Sullivan Co.,
p. 448 & p. 449 Hall Tp. of Dubois Co.,
p. 438 Columbia Tp. of Dubois Co.,
p. 50 Ohio Tp. of Spencer Co.,
p. 162 Lost Creek Tp. of Vigo Co.,
and p. 294 Prairie Creek Tp. of Vigo Co.
There was also a Wm. A. Morgan in Putnamville, Putnam Co., IN, on the same page (529) as a Wm. A. Grigsby (40, born KY, wife Priscilla A. born KY, 3 children born in IN: Mary 12, Wm. 10 and Lucy 3).

In the 1820 Gibson Co. census there was a daughter under 10 who was still living at home but was gone by the next census. Could this be the Patsy Grigsby who married Alfred G. Richards 5 Aug. 1830? (1850 Gibson Co. census gives his age as 39 and hers 36.) Or ~~was~~ is it more plausible that she was the daughter in the 1810 census under 10, 10 to 16 in 1820 and 15 to 20 in 1830? By working back from her 15 to 20 age in 1830, she would probably have been born in 1810. Either of these daughters could be Patsy. Nothing in my data gives a clue to what may have become of the other daughter.

There were also some marriage records in Indiana that don't jibe exactly with the known ages and spouses we have. For instance, Demps had a son Thomas J. who was born about 1827. It has always been assumed that he was the one who married Sarah Grimes in Gibson Co. in Dec. 1843 but he would have been only 16 which would be a bit young. Is it possible instead that he was a BROTHER of Demps and one of the younger sons of John?

Likewise, there are several Bailey (spelled in various ways) Grigsby marriages that don't fit in with what facts we have. One married Martha Ann Yeager 25 Mar. 1838, another Malissa Forsythe 19 Dec. 1844, and still another married Elizabeth Bryant in 1854. This last one was Nina Bowen's ancestor so would have been the son of Toliver who was born in 1834.

Bayless, son of Wm. of Orange Co., married Esther McRae in Sullivan, IN. He was only 18 in the 1850 census of Orange Co. so could not account for any of the Gibson Co. marriages.

There was a Bailey Grigsby in both the 1840 and 1850 Gibson Co., IN, census. The 1850 census lists Baley Grigsby on page 102, Wabash Township:

2 - 2	Baley Grigsby	37	M	farmer	KY
	Malison "	24	F		AR
	Malinda "	5	F		IA
	Thos. J. "	3	M		IA
	Wm. "	6/12	M		IA

Note that the "IA" abbreviation stood for Indiana, not Iowa.

This Bailey was obviously the one who married Malissa Forsythe in Gibson Co. in 1844. It is also probable that since he was 31 at that time, this could well have been a second marriage and he could also have been the one who married Martha Ann Yeager in 1838. To fortify this theorizing, here are some interesting items from the 1850 Gibson Co., IN, Montgomery Township census:

599-600	Yeager, Daniel	29	M	farmer	1000	KY

Saml., Jr.	27	M	farmer	KY
John	24	M	farmer	IN

The presence of two Grigsby girls in Yeager households would appear to bear out my idea that Bailey first married Martha Ann Yeager in 1838 and later married Malissa Forsythe. Their ages of 11 and 8 fit, too. Also, Wabash (where Bailey lived) and Montgomery townships adjoin one another.

The two youngest children in Winney Grigsby's household are, obviously, not hers. Francis, the 4-year-old boy is the son of her oldest son George, but Indiana Grigsby at 11 is too young to be Toliver's daughter and too old to be George's. Is it possible that she could also be a daughter of Bailey and Martha Ann?

Why I came to the conclusion, I don't know

This completes the analysis of what data I have. In summary, what I have suggested here could account for all but 2 of the children of John Grigsby and wife in the 1810 Muhlenberg Co., KY, census. Either of these missing children could have died young. Or the missing daughter could have married in a different county and the missing son could have moved away. (The David Grigsby who married Christian Reminer in Appanoose Co., IA, in 1855 comes to mind here!) We still need to keep our eyes open for solitary Grigsbys here and there west of Indiana.

Please examine all of this and let me know where I have gone wrong. Lacking just one small piece of information can make a world of difference and it's only by carefully comparing one another's ideas that we can sort out some of these troublesome types.

and the confidence reposed in him. Socially he is past master of the Masonic Fraternity, past grand of the Odd Fellows' Society, and a member of the Knights of Pythias and the Ancient Order of United Workmen.

MARSHALL HARRISON has been an important factor in the development and progress of Gibson County, and his name is inseparably connected with its business and political history. He was born in this county, March 5, 1839. His father, Azza Harrison, a native of Mason County, Kentucky, located here about 1836. He was born in 1801, and died in Vincennes, Indiana, in 1876. He married Nancy E. Evans, who departed this life in April, 1893. Her children are Jane, widow of Josiah Nixon; Elizabeth, deceased wife of J. T. Ewing; Tabitha, deceased wife of John Wilburn; Marshall; Mary, wife of William Kingsbury, of Ponca, Nebraska; Melvina, deceased wife of J. T. Ewing; and Henry. The grandfather of our subject, Samuel Harrison, was a native of Maryland, and removed to Kentucky during its pioneer epoch. Marshall Harrison spent his boyhood days in the usual manner of farmer lads and after mastering the branches of study taught in the common schools, spent one year in school in Mason County, Kentucky. During the greater part of his life he carried on agricultural pursuits. Soon after his marriage he purchased a portion of the old homestead, whereon he resided until after the death of his wife. Since 1892 he has devoted his attention to other interests, both public and private. He was married in December, 1862, in White River township, to Sarah Riley, daughter of James Riley. She died in April, 1894, leaving one child, L. W., now a reporter for the Morning Sun, published in Springfield, Ohio. Mr. Harrison has long been an active worker in the interests of Democracy, and was his party's candidate for County Treasurer in 1894. He was elected Township Trustee in 1887, and re-elected in 1889, serving in all for seven years. No more capable official has ever been called to that office. During his incumbency he succeeded in paying off a township debt of five thousand three hundred dollars, much of which had been incurred twelve years previous. Through his instrumentality five new school houses were erected and the old ones remodeled by building vestibules and putting in slate blackboards. He supplied the township with new road graders and scrapers, and after all this expenditure, turned over to his successor one thousand dollars in cash. His able administration wrought a vast improvement in the township, and his long continuance in office well indicated the satisfaction which his fellow townsmen felt over his work. He is one of the most progressive and public-spirited residents of this section of Gibson County, and his circle of friends is very extensive.

which were held to their places by weight poles, and when the building fell one of his daughters was crippled. The house was immediately rebuilt.] Present, William Harrington, Isaac Montgomery, Daniel Putnam, judges. The court immediately proceeded to the formation of townships. It was ordered that all that portion of country east of Congo's Creek, lying in the bounds of Gibson County, form one township, to be designated by the name of Madison Township, and that tract of country west of Madison Township, and lying between White River and Patoka* River, Pike County, form a township known as White River Township, and the tract of country lying between Patoka River and Anderson's Creek, from the mouth thereof and up the same to where John Barber now lives, thence due south to the line of Warrick County, form a township known as Patoka. Ordered that all that tract of country lying between Anders on's Creek, the Wabash River and Black River, up to the plantation where James Mutes formerly lived, thence due south to the line of Warrick County, form Montgomery Township; that portion of country lying south and west of Black River, and in the bounds of Gibson County, to form and be known as Black River Township.

Thus it will be seen that the court fixed and created the boundaries of five townships, as named and described. After which the judges proceeded to the appointment of commissioners, for the assessment of county and territorial taxes. Hosea Smith was appointed for the assessment of taxes in Madison Township for the year 1813, and the others were Jonathan Gulick in White River; John Barker, Patoka Township; John W. Maddox, Montgomery and Thomas Robb, for Black River Township.

During this term Daniel Sullivan made an application to the court that a writ of ad quod damnum be granted for the purposes of ascertaining what damages would result from the erection of a mill dam across the Patoka on the land of said Sullivan. The dam was subsequently built and furnished the power for a water mill for many years.

This court also appointed Jesse Emerson and William McCormick trustees to manage the reserve sections of land for the use of schools.

FIRST LICENSE TO KEEP TAVERN.

At the May term of court, 1813, a license was granted Gervrs Hazleton to keep a tavern for the term of one year, he having complied with the requirements of the law, and having paid a license fee of four dollars.

It was ordered by the court that the following be the tavern rates in and for Gibson County:

For one meal's victuals.....25 cents.
" gallon of corn.....12½ "
" and a half gallon of oats.....12½ "
For one night's lodging.....12½ cents
" horse at hay for twelve hours.....25 "

After fixing tavern rates the court then adjourned until the next day, Tuesday, May 11th, at ten o'clock, at which time they convened with the members present as before.

FIRST ROADS.—Joseph Decker, of White River Township, presented a petition that a road fifteen feet wide be cut out (it must be remembered by the reader that in 1813 that section of the county was densely timbered) from Decker's ferry on White River to Severns' ferry on Patoka River, thence to intersect the Saline road at or near the plantation of Robert M. Evans. And it was also ordered that Abraham Decker, Robert Falls, and James Robb be appointed commissioners to view and mark out the road. The court also appointed Robert Crow supervisor of the above road, with authority to call on all the working hands in White River Township to assist in making the same, and he was also ordered to keep the road in repair when made. This thoroughfare was the first county road built and maintained after the organization of the county. Jeremiah Harrison was appointed supervisor of the road, from Hogan's ferry on Patoka to Richland Creek, near the residence of William Harrington, also from Severns' ferry on the Patoka to where the road intersects the Saline road. Azariah Ayers was appointed supervisor of the road from Richland Creek to Anderson Creek, and was fully authorized to call on all the able working men between those two creeks in the bounds of Patoka Township (except those residing on the waters of Pigeon), to maintain and keep the same in good repair. The court appointed Joshua Embree supervisor of the road through Montgomery Township, from Anderson's Creek to opposite John Hunter's. All residents east of Hunter's place were required to assist in maintaining the road. And for the Saline road opposite John Hunter's to Black River, Robert Anderson was appointed supervisor, and the residents west of Hunter's in Montgomery Township were required to assist in keeping the road in repair. John Waller was appointed supervisor for that part of the Saline road which lies in Black River Township. Probably the most important road projected during this time was from the south end of Robert M. Evan's lane to the line of Warrick County, there to intersect with a road then opening from Anthony's mill toward Patoka. Elias Baker was appointed supervisor. It was required that the road be cut twenty feet wide, and the residents living in the two Pigeon settlements were to aid in making the road, and for so doing were to be exempt from working on any other road. James McClure was appointed supervisor of the road from the south end of Robert M. Evan's lane to where the new road leaves the Old Red-Bank road, and he was authorized to summons the hands living between Richland Creek and Patoka, together with

*In 1813 the records show Patoka spelled thus: Pattoco. We here give the orthography correct.
